A LEVEL BUSINESS

Have a go

Create a 'spot the difference' cash flow activity for another student. The activity should include a cash flow forecast and then a cash flow statement for the same period of time. Certain figures should be changed between the forecast and the statement.

The challenge for the other student is to identify the differences and find a possible reason for their difference.

eg if the rent figure was different a perfectly reasonable explanation would be that the landlord had increased the rent between the time the forecast was created and when the statement was produced.
