Launch of new interactive digital anthology for GCSE English Literature (9-1) J352

Our brand new digital anthology is packed with creative, interactive resources to help bring poetry alive for students at Key Stage 4. Developed in collaboration with the Poetry Society and the Wordsworth Trust, this in-depth online package of resources and support is designed to support students in developing key English skills.

The digital anthology is designed to:

- Comprehensively support the study of poetry in the new GCSE English Literature curriculum, covering all the poems in the new OCR poetry anthology Towards a World Unknown
- Support the full ability range with a mixture of structured and open-ended activities
- Engage students and support independent learning, in the classroom or at home
- Stimulate and challenge students, with exploratory, comparative and extension activities for each poem
- Provide practical teacher guidance on consolidating learning and revision
- Provide new interactive text, video and audio resources for use on screen or via interactive whiteboard

Available for centres to access for free on our website, one centre registration will provide you with full access to the range of digital resources for our English specifications. Launching with the GCSE English Literature digital anthology, we'll be growing the bank of exciting, interactive digital resources available to help your students succeed in English.
