Mark Scheme for June 2017

OCR (Oxford Cambridge and RSA) is a leading UK awarding body, providing a wide range of qualifications to meet the needs of candidates of all ages and abilities. OCR qualifications include AS/A Levels, Diplomas, GCSEs, Cambridge Nationals, Cambridge Technicals, Functional Skills, Key Skills, Entry Level qualifications, NVQs and vocational qualifications in areas such as IT, business, languages, teaching/training, administration and secretarial skills.

It is also responsible for developing new specifications to meet national requirements and the needs of students and teachers. OCR is a not-for-profit organisation; any surplus made is invested back into the establishment to help towards the development of qualifications and support, which keep pace with the changing needs of today's society.

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and students, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which marks were awarded by examiners. It does not indicate the details of the discussions which took place at an examiners' meeting before marking commenced.

All examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the published question papers and the report on the examination.

OCR will not enter into any discussion or correspondence in connection with this mark scheme.

Subject-specific Marking Instructions*Marking and Annotation of Scripts after Standardisation

All scripts must be marked in accordance with the version of the mark scheme agreed at Standardisation.

Recording of marks

Show evidence that you have seen the work on every page of a script on which the candidate has made a response.

Cross through every blank page to show that you have seen it.

Follow the current guidance on crossed-out work.

Handling of unexpected answers

Standardisation will include discussion of marking issues, including:

- consideration of the mark scheme to reach a decision about the range of acceptable responses and the marks appropriate to them
- comparable marking standards for optional questions
- the handling of unexpected, yet acceptable, answers.

If you are not sure how to apply the mark scheme to an answer, you should telephone your Team Leader.

SECTION A READING

Question 1 'Gifted children no more likely to succeed'. Outline concisely the activities undertaken by "gifted and talented" children.

CRITERIA

Candidates should demonstrate that they can:

- Read and understand texts, selecting material appropriate to purpose, collating from different sources (AO2 i).

INSTRUCTIONS TO EXAMINERS -1

We are not marking writing in Section A unless the expression is so bad that it impedes communication. Identify each point made clearly

		Marks	Guidance

Notes on the Task		Mars	Guidance
1	General - Be prepared to acknowledge and reward responses which, although comparatively deficient in the number of points, nevertheless show clear understanding of the passage through a high order of skill in synthesis and structuring. Higher Band (1+2) responses are likely to identify a range of key points and convey them	12

	concisely, using the candidate's own words as far as possible in order to convey a clear overview of the material. Responses will be consistently focused on the task and well organised with little or no excess material. There may be occasional blurring of points, particularly at the lower end of the range. Middle Band (3+4) responses are likely to include a range of relevant points, most of which will be clearly identified. Focus on the task is clear but there may not be an attempt at concision, or there may be over-condensation leading to some blurring of points. There will be an attempt to organise although at the lower end of the range answers may include unnecessary detail and be over-reliant on the sequence of the original passage. There will be evidence that the passage and task have been understood, possibly by selective lifting. Lower Band (5+6) responses are likely to identify clearly only a limited number of relevant points: understanding of the passage may not be secure although at the higher end of the range, there is likely to be evidence of a general understanding of the material. Responses may lack focus and organisation and are likely to be very short or of excessive length as a result of including unnecessary or irrelevant material and/or excessive lifting from the original passage.

Question 2. Gifted children no more likely to succeed. How does the article persuade you that “gifted and talented” children should be treated normally?

CRITERIA

Candidates should demonstrate that they can:

- Explain and evaluate how writers use presentational features to achieve effects and engage and influence the reader (AO2 iii).

INSTRUCTIONS TO EXAMINERS – 2

- 1 We are not marking writing in Section A unless the expression is so bad that it impeded communication.
- 2 Use the Band descriptors in conjunction with the standardisation scripts to arrive at your mark.
- 3 Indicate the band and mark with a brief comment, taken from the band descriptors, if appropriate.

2	General Candidates may offer some comment on how the picture and heading/subheading reinforce the central idea of the scheme. They may explore the implications of the empty mastermind chair at the top to the development of the article. Candidates may consider the structure of the piece which (for example) delays the writer’s own complicity in what she condemns to the end of the piece. Candidates could explore the implied contrasts and comparisons between the effects of “hothousing” (as in Q1) to the “normal” activities presented. There are many examples of evocative and emotive language used to describe and evoke the writer’s attitude to ways of treating ‘gifted’ children. This may suggest a contrast between the conscious hyperbole of the article and the seriousness of the potential consequences/outcomes of such actions.. Higher Band (1 +2) responses will carefully and perceptively select examples of the ways in which the argument works from throughout the passage. There is much to say about the heading, sub-heading and empty chair, to start. The colloquial opening “hurrah” / “blind bit	14	 in the body of the answer indicates clear relevant points.  in the margin indicates use of supporting reference.  indicates points not fully expressed.  indicates strong thoughtful

of difference” and vigorous verbs: “trample”, “vault” ‘ set a clear attitude to the topic. There is a use of authority / endorsement to pick up on: Professor J. Freeman is appealed to throughout; Winston Churchill is a powerful example, especially in the way he is presented. There is the use of ‘specialist’ jargon to respond to: ‘hothousing’ is repeated, “helicopter parents” is novel and ‘potential’ in inverted commas are all well worth comment. The key paragraph on p2, “Right now....fulfilled’ has much to say about the structure of the piece, as does the heavy use of bathos as it concludes. a. Middle Band (3+4) responses are likely to show some appreciation of the ways in which the passage focuses on these contrasts in its appeal for common sense despite parental ambitions that even the writer confesses to. There is likely to be some comment on the ways in which the heading/subheading and visual image contribute to this. There may be some attempt to explain language effects, such as the contrasts between the descriptions of what is normal and what isn’t which may not be always firmly linked to the writer’s purpose. There should be plenty of language effects to work on. b. c. Lower Band (5+6) responses are likely to show only a rudimentary understanding of the task and will make general, mainly unsupported comments about the writer's use of language, possibly achieving little more than the naming of a device. There may be some misunderstanding of the text and responses at this level will probably consist mainly of paraphrase/summary of the content and description of the opening image.	comment NE may be used to indicate lack of examples MR indicates misunderstanding. NAQ indicates irrelevant comment.

Question 3 I was a late developer. How does Neil Brennan combine humour and seriousness to present his experiences as a late developer?

CRITERIA Candidates should demonstrate that they can

- Develop and sustain interpretations of writer's ideas and perspectives (AO2ii)

INSTRUCTIONS TO EXAMINERS – 3

- 1 We are not marking writing in Section A unless the expression is so bad that it impeded communication.
- 2 Use the Band descriptors in conjunction with the standardisation scripts to arrive at your mark.
- 3 Indicate the band and mark with a brief comment, taken from the band descriptors, if appropriate.

3	General - Candidates are expected to show understanding of the writer's purpose and the means used to achieve this. Examiners should be prepared to credit different approaches by the candidates in responding to the task. Candidates may explore the effects created by the graphic description of the writer's experiences as a teenager and young man as he grows up. There is a clear and mutually enhancing juxtaposition of the serious and comic effects of this. The description and commentary is then developed into an account of overcoming what is challenging and confusing, culminating in a triumphant sense of achieving normality. Candidates may explore the points made about the differences between adolescents at different stages of their development and a variety of responses to that. The strong personal appeal that is developed as well as the evidence of strong personal engagement and the unblushing account of embarrassing moments. The tone oscillates between anger, frustration, self- mockery and hilarity. d. Higher Band (1+2) responses should offer some quite detailed analysis of the descriptive and emotive language used. Some more subtle appreciation may be shown of the way the writer synthesizes humorous ('Daniel Radcliffe/ cherubic face') and serious ('jokes about the obese kid') effects to build up to the climactic moment of, paradoxically, making a triumph of mundane normality. e. f. Middle Band (3+4) responses are likely to show generally secure understanding of the writer's purpose and intention and may identify and try to comment on	14	 in the body of the answer indicates clear relevant points.  in the margin indicates use of supporting reference.  indicates points not fully expressed.  indicates strong thoughtful comment NE may be used to indicate lack of examples MR indicates misunderstanding. NAQ indicates irrelevant comment.

	examples of effectively serious/humorous language, but be less confident in explaining how effects are conveyed to the reader. g. Lower Band (5+6) responses are likely to show only a rudimentary understanding of the task with largely unsupported comment. There is likely to be some misunderstanding of the text. Responses at this level will consist almost entirely of an attempted summary of the content of the article with some attempt to spot literary devices.

SECTION B: WRITING (Candidates answer EITHER 4 OR 5)CRITERIA

Candidates should demonstrate that they can:

- Write to communicate clearly, effectively and imaginatively, using and adapting forms and selecting vocabulary appropriate to task and purpose in ways that engage the reader (AO3 i)
- Organise information and ideas into structured and sequenced sentences, paragraphs and whole texts, using a variety of linguistic and structural features to support cohesion and overall coherence (AO3 ii)
- Use a range of sentence structures for clarity, purpose and effect, with accurate punctuation and spelling (AO3 iii).

INSTRUCTIONS TO EXAMINERS – 4 or 5

- 1 Use  for good ideas and  for merits of expression to show how you have formed your judgement. Use a wavy line  underneath the candidate's writing, or in the margin  to show awkward or incorrect syntax/unclear expression. Use a caret to show omission.
- 2 You should write a brief summative comment drawn from the wording of the descriptors to show how you have arrived at your final marks.
- 3 For writing tasks, LENGTH is not in itself a criterion.
Short answers (50-100 words) may well be self-penalising in terms of the marking criteria (eg control and development of ideas; structure; maintaining the reader's interest), but may still demonstrate significant qualities. Very short answers (fewer than 50 words) should not normally be marked higher than Band 7.
- 4 Award TWO separate marks, one for AOs 3(i) + (ii), one for AO3 (iii), using the appropriate instructions and Band Descriptors. Be prepared to use the full range of marks in each sub-set.
- 5 Use the standardisation scripts as guides to your assessment.
- 6 The generic marking criteria for Writing appear after the Notes on the Task.

Question		Notes on the Task	Marks	Guidance
4		Expect a wide range of responses to this personal writing prompt.. Be prepared to reward those which show a clear awareness of the purpose of the question. There should be evidence of an attempt to use language with appropriate detail and sensitivity. There is no expectation that candidates selecting this question will continue the themes of the texts. Look for a well-structured and coherent response that adopts an appropriate tone.	40
5		Candidates have been asked to produce a piece of persuasive/ argumentative writing. Expect a wide range of responses, and note that 'community'; and 'happier place' can be whatever candidates interpret them as: as can be 'a large sum of money'. There is no expectation that candidates selecting this question will continue the themes of the texts. Look to reward those responses that are well crafted and clearly focused on the task and the audience. There should be some intention to use language to create persuasive rhetorical effects.	40
