

In October 2011 Asset Languages was invited to an event organised by the Modern Greek Chief Examiner and senior examining team. The venue and refreshments were kindly donated by the Cypriot Brotherhood in Barnet, with advertisements being run in the Cypriot Greek newspaper ΕΛΕΥΘΕΡΙΑ (freedom/liberty) for several weeks prior to the event.

The event was well attended by local teachers, head teachers and other representatives from the Greek-Cypriot community. Emma Savoian, Qualifications Team Manager for Asset Languages, said 'the team had been keen to organise the event for some time, and it was pleasing to have so many from the Greek-Cypriot community attend.'

Assessment and conducting Speaking tests. Emma concluded 'it was a pleasure to have such enthusiasm and participation from those who attended.'

'Events organised by local communities are beneficial to all who attend and to the Asset representatives. They not only provide information about what is available, but also the opportunity to network, share information and resources. For the Asset team it is always rewarding to meet those using our qualifications.'

Emma and Chloe Tarrant-Brown, Qualifications Manager gave presentations with the aim of highlighting Asset Languages as an alternative to GCSE and GCE, explaining how to use Teacher Assessment and how speaking assessments work. The 'bite-sized' presentations allowed delegates the opportunity to ask questions, while each presentation included activities based around the 'Can-do' statements, Teacher
