1 Introduction

The new structure of assessment at Advanced level has been introduced for teaching from September 2008. The specifications are designed to provide candidates with an introduction to Economics.

These specifications are set out in the form of units. Each teaching unit is assessed by its associated unit of assessment. Guidance notes are provided with these specifications to assist teachers in understanding the detail necessary for each unit.

It is important to make the point that the Teacher Support plays a secondary role to the Specification itself. The Specification is the document on which assessment is based and specifies what content and skills need to be covered in delivering the course. At all times, therefore, this teacher support should be read in conjunction with the Specification. If clarification on a particular point is sought then that clarification should be found in the Specification itself.

OCR recognises that the teaching of this qualification will vary greatly from school to school and from teacher to teacher. With that in mind, this Teacher Guide/Notes for Guidance is offered as guidance but will be subject to modifications by the individual teacher.

2 Resources

The range of material available is extensive. The list below is by no means exhaustive. Inclusion does not necessarily mean complete suitability, unless the resource has been endorsed by OCR. The list is intended to act as a broad guide. It is also recognised that teachers may be familiar with other relevant resources that are not listed below.

Key Text Books

Two OCR endorsed Heinemann textbooks have been produced by Principal Examiners for the delivery of the AS and A Level specifications. These are:

Bamford C G and Grant SJ, AS Economics for OCR (Heinemann) (Publication expected in Spring 2008)

Bamford C G and Grant SJ and Walton SD, A2 Economics for OCR (Heinemann) (Publication expected in Spring 2008)

In addition, teachers will find parts or the whole of the following text books of use to their students. Books that have an asterisk * alongside them are more substantive and will be of more use to teachers. These books are also suitable to A2 students with respect to the “stretch and challenge” requirement.

CD ROMS

Tutor2U (www.tutor2u.net) produce an extensive range of teaching and learning materials, including revision guides.

EconoMax, for which a subscription is required, is produced every two months or so and contains short articles on current economic issues.

Some of the general text books referred to above have accompanying CD's containing PowerPoint presentations and revision exercises.

The HSBC produce an annual guide to the performance of the UK Economy, "The UK Economy Explained". This contains a useful coherent selection of statistics. It is free of charge from the Business Economics Unit, HSBC Bank PLC, Level 31, 8 Canada Square, London, E14 5HQ.

Other Resources

Biz / ed (www.bized.co.uk) has for many years produced a range of notes and worksheets for use by GCE Economics students.

Wikipedia (www.wikipedia.com) is a huge resource of economic information. It is though unedited and may not always contain correct information.

Students should be encouraged to read a good newspaper on a regular basis.

The Economist (www.economist.com) contains short, punchy, topical articles and has an excellent search and back issues for subscribers.

"Economics Today", Anforme LTD, is published four times a year and contains accessible articles on AS/A Level topics. These are written by teachers and in some cases OCR examiners.

The BBC news website (www.bbc.co.uk) is an excellent source of information for some of the topics in the AS and A2 specification. It has a good data section and search facility.

The DeSTRESS project (<http://destress.pbworks.com/w/page/42308116/Welcome>) provides a variety of statistical resources for learning and teaching Social Sciences, including Economics.

The Royal Economic Society host an annual Young Economist of the Year Essay Competition (<http://www.res.org.uk/society/youngeconomist.asp>).

There are many websites, governmental and others, that contain relevant up to date articles and statistics of particular relevance to the A2 units and Unit F582. There are really too many to mention. Details will be provided at INSET meetings

4 Other forms of Support

In order to help you implement these new specification effectively, OCR offers a comprehensive package of support. This includes:

OCR Training

Get Started...towards successful delivery of the new specifications

These full-day events will run from Spring 2008 and will look at the new specifications in more depth, with emphasis on first delivery.

Visit www.ocr.org.uk for more details.

Hosted Network Events

OCR runs a number of successful network events, hosted by our Customer Support Managers. These enable you to meet colleagues from other centres and share best practice. The events are about peer learning and provide an excellent opportunity to carry out standardisation activities and receive updates from OCR.

For more information, please contact the Networks and Regional Coordinator on 024 7649 6396.

Mill Wharf Training

Additional events are also available through our partner, Mill Wharf Training. It offers a range of courses on innovative teaching practice and whole-school issues - www.mill-wharf-training.co.uk.

e-Communities

Over 70 e-Communities offer you a fast, dynamic communication channel to make contact with other subject specialists. Our online mailing list covers a wide range of subjects and enables you to share knowledge and views via email.

Visit <https://community.ocr.org.uk>, choose your community and join the discussion!

Interchange

OCR Interchange has been developed to help you to carry out day to day administration functions online, quickly and easily. The site allows you to register and enter candidates online. In addition, you can gain immediate a free access to candidate information at you convenience. Sign up at <https://interchange.ocr.org.uk>

Published Resources

Published Resources

OCR offers centres a wealth of quality published support with a fantastic choice of 'Official Publisher Partner' and 'Approved Publication' resources, all endorsed by OCR for use with OCR specifications.

Publisher partners

OCR works in close collaboration with three Publisher Partners; Hodder, Heinemann and Oxford University Press (OUP) to ensure centres have access to:

- Better published support, available when you need it, tailored to OCR specifications
- Quality resources produced in consultation with OCR subject teams, which are linked to OCR's teacher support materials
- More resources for specifications with lower candidate entries
- Materials that are subject to a thorough quality assurance process to achieve endorsement

Heinemann is the publisher partner for OCR GCE Economics

Approved publications OCR still endorses other publisher materials, which undergo a thorough quality assurance process to achieve endorsement. By offering a choice of endorsed materials, centres can be assured of quality support for all OCR qualifications.

Endorsement

OCR endorses a range of publisher materials to provide quality support for centres delivering its qualifications. You can be confident that materials branded with OCR's "Official Publishing Partner" or "Approved publication" logos have undergone a thorough quality assurance process to achieve endorsement. All responsibility for the content of the publisher's materials rests with the publisher.

These endorsements do not mean that the materials are the only suitable resources available or necessary to achieve an OCR qualification. Any resource lists which are produced by OCR shall include a range of appropriate texts.
