- Complete the boxes above with your name, centre number and candidate number.
- Answer both Section A and Section B.
- Write your answer to each question in the space provided.
- Additional paper may be used if required but you must clearly show your candidate number, centre number and question number(s).
- Do not write in the bar codes.

INFORMATION
- The total mark for this paper is 100.
- The marks for each question are shown in brackets [ ].
- This document consists of 16 pages.
Answer both Section A and Section B.

Section A

Read Passage 1 and answer the questions.

Passage 1

Phaethon wants to prove to his friends that his father is Apollo, god of the sun. Apollo therefore allows Phaethon to drive his fiery sun chariot. Jupiter, however, intervenes and the story ends in tragedy.

Phaethon erat filius Apollinis. olim Phaethon tristis erat quod amici eum deridebant. 'pater tuus non est deus solis!' dicebant. Phaethon igitur ad aulam Apollinis ire constituit. nam volebat currum patris videre, ut amicis argumentum daret.

sed postquam Phaethon currum vidit, patri dixit, 'nunc volo quoque currum agere. si enim amici me in caelo videbunt, omnes tandem mihi credent.' itaque Apollo puero currum dedit.

statim Phaethon laetus lora equorum cepit et ex aula discessit. equi tamen, ubi intellexerunt puerum currum agere, ad terram descenderunt.

hoc viso, Iuppiter currum celerrime delevit. nam timebat ne terra incenderetur. ita Phaethon quoque interfactus est.

Names
Phaethon, Phaethontis (m) Phaethon
Apollo, Apollinis (m) Apollo (god of the sun)
Iuppiter, Iovis (m) Jupiter (king of the gods)

Vocabulary
derideo, deridere, derisi, derisus I laugh at, mock currus, currus (m) chariot argumentum, argumenti (n) proof, evidence lora, lorum (n pl) reins

1 Phaethon erat filius Apollinis. olim Phaethon tristis erat (line 1): what two things are we told about Phaethon?

- ............................................................... [2]

- ............................................................... [2]

2 ‘pater tuus non est deus solis!’ (lines 1–2): what did Phaethon’s friends say about his father?

- ....................................................................................

- .................................................................................... [2]

3 Phaethon igitur ad aulam Apollinis ire constituit (line 2): what did Phaethon decide to do?

- .................................................................................... [2]

4 Nam volebat currum patris videre, ut amicis argumentum daret (lines 2–3): why did Phaethon want to see his father’s chariot?

- .................................................................................... [2]

5 ‘si enim amici me in caelo videbunt, omnes tandem mihi credent.’ (lines 4–5): what did Phaethon think would happen if his friends saw him driving the chariot in the sky?

- .................................................................................... [2]

6 Statim Phaethon laetus lora equorum cepit et ex aula discessit (line 6): what did Phaethon do before leaving Apollo’s palace?

- .................................................................................... [1]
7 equi tamen, ubi intellexerunt puerum currum agere, ad terram descenderunt (lines 6–7).
(a) equi tamen, ubi intellexerunt puerum currum agere: what did the horses realise?
(b) ad terram descenderunt: what did the horses do?

8 Iuppiter currum celerrime delevit. nam timebat ne terra incenderetur (line 8): why did Jupiter destroy the chariot?

Passage 2

The Gauls attempt to capture the Capitol, but the Romans manage to defeat them.

illo tempore, urbs Roma a Gallis oppugnabatur. itaque Romani, multis militibus suis mortuis et plurimis villis incensis, ad summum Capitolium ascendere constituerunt. ibi nonnullos dies manebant. mox tamen Romani cognoverunt collem in ingenti periculo esse. nam Galli in animo habebant Capitolium capere. sperabant se ita totam urbem deleturos esse.

prima luce omnes Galli magno clamore ad collem cucurrerunt. Romani timebant ne vincerentur, sed tam fortiter pugnaverunt ut hostes facile opprimerent atque fugere cogerent.

Galli ad castra regressi inter se cogitaverunt quid facere deberent. tandem miles quidam e Gallis forte invenit viam occultam, quae ad summum Capitolium ducerat. Galli igitur collem media nocte ascendere paraverunt.

Names

(b)  ut hostes facile opprimerent atque fugere cogerent: what happened as a result?

18  Galli ad castra regressi inter se cogitaverunt quid facere deberent (line 7): what did the Gauls consider after returning to their camp?

19  miles quidam e Gallis forte invenit viam occultam, quae ad summum Capitolium ducebat (lines 7–8): what did a certain soldier from the Gauls find?
Read Passage 3.

Passage 3

The Gauls make a second attempt, but the geese on the Capitol come to the rescue of the Romans.

dux Gallorum timebat ne Romani viros collem ascendentes audirent. itaque imperavit omnibus Gallis ut in itinere tacerent. ea nocte Galli tam tacite processerunt ut custodes Romani eos non conspicerent.

eodem tempore tamen anseres pauci in Capitolio habitabant. Romani anseres non conspumperant, quod sacri deae Iunonis erant. hi anseres, Gallis visis, tantum clamorem fecerunt ut Manlium, militem summae virtutis, excitarent. ille, armis statim raptis, iussit ceteros Romanos Capitolium fortiter defendere. mox multi Galli de summo colle a Romanis deiecti sunt et mortem crudelem passi sunt. hoc modo igitur urbs Roma non virtute militum sed clamore anserum servata est.

Guidance on applying the marking grids for GCSE Latin

The classification below should be seen only as a general guide, the intention of which is to maintain standards year on year. Lead Markers should consider each instance on its own merits in the context of the passage and the section.

The mark scheme awards marks for the proportion of sense communicated. If a candidate has communicated the ‘gist’ of a sentence (e.g. they know who has done what to whom) they will score 5, 4 or 3 marks. If they have not understood the basic sense of the sentence, they will score a maximum of 2.

A completely correct translation with no omissions or errors will always score 5. The key judgment for a candidate who has demonstrated understanding of the overall meaning of the sentence is whether they should score 5, 4 or 3. This will depend on the gravity of their errors/omissions and may depend on the number of words in the sentence to be translated or the difficulty of the Latin and is usually decided at standardisation after a judgment has been formed about the performance of candidates.

A word containing more than one error should be treated as a maximum of one serious error. Repeated and consequential vocabulary errors should not be penalised.

e.g. tum, gaudentes quod Scipio libenter se acceperat, ad naves suas reverterunt.

(i) ‘then, rejoicing because Scipio had received them willingly, they turned back to their ships’ - the omission of tum is an inconsequential error, so 5 marks out of 5

(ii) ‘then, rejoicing because Scipio had received them willingly, they turned back to their ship’ - the number error on ‘ship’ (it’s plural in the Latin) is an inconsequential error, so 5 marks.

(iii) ‘then, rejoicing because Scipio was receiving them willingly, they turned back to their ship’ - despite the tense error on acceperat and the number of naves, the candidate has clearly got the point, so a mark of 4 is appropriate.

(iv) ‘then, unhappy because Scipio had received them, they turned back to their ships’ - the mistranslation of gaudentes is a more serious error here, as it gets the wrong point (they were happy, not unhappy!) and the omission of libenter could be considered a serious omission. The overall sense is more or less correct (Scipio had received them and they went back to their ships) so a mark of 3 would be appropriate.

(v) ‘Scipio was unhappy because they had not welcomed him and they turned back to their ship’ - there are a number of errors here (no tum, Scipio taken as agreeing with gaudentes, wrong meaning of gaudentes, omission of libenter, number of naves) but the key judgment point is that the general meaning has not been communicated, so a maximum of 2 would be appropriate. It has enough correct sense to score more than 1.
The sort of errors that we would generally expect to be considered 'inconsequential' would be:

- number errors (singular/plural - naves taken as singular above)
- minor tense errors (e.g. one past tense taken as another - acceperat taken as imperfect above)
- minor conjunctions/adverbs incorrectly translated or omitted (tum above)

The sort of errors that we would generally expect to be considered 'more serious' would be:

- major vocabulary errors which give the wrong sense (e.g. gaudentes taken as ‘unhappy’ above).
- a future tense taken as a past tense
- missing a purpose clause (e.g. ad forum ivit ut cibum emeret = ‘he went to the form and bought food’)
- missing a gerundive (e.g. ad forum ivit ad cibum emendum = ‘buying food he went to the forum’)

The categorisation of ‘inconsequential’ and ‘more serious’ errors might vary within a paper, depending on the length of the sentence for translation (e.g. the omission of a word in a five word sentence might be judged more serious than a similar omission in a twelve word sentence) and might vary between papers. The final decisions on what constitute ‘inconsequential’ and ‘more serious errors’ will be made and communicated to assessors via the standardisation process (after full consideration of candidates’ responses) and these decisions will be captured in the final mark scheme for examiners and centres.

And so he ordered all the Gauls to say nothing on the journey. | 5 | itaque
Accept ‘therefore’/’so’.
in itinere
Accept ‘on the way’.
Inconsequential: imperavit omnibus Gallis: ‘she ordered all the Gauls’. A wrong subject pronoun is an inconsequential error.
More serious: omnibus Gallis: ‘the Gauls’ (omission of omnibus). An omitted word (apart from minor conjunctions/adverbs) is a more serious error. However, in a longer section, it might be considered as an inconsequential error. |
| (iii) | ea nocte Galli tam tacite processerunt ut custodes Romani eos non conspicerent.

Inconsequential: Galli tam tacite processerunt ut: ‘the Gauls advanced so silently so that’. ut rendered as a purpose clause in cases of result clauses and indirect commands is an inconsequential error.
Inconsequential: processerunt: ‘had advanced’. A minor tense error (e.g. one past tense taken as another) is an inconsequential error.
More serious: ut custodes Romani eos non conspicerent: ‘that the Roman guards did not hear them’. A vocabulary error which gives the wrong sense is a more serious error. |

   Soon many Gauls were thrown down from the top of the hill by the Romans and suffered a cruel death. | 5 | de summo colle
   Accept ‘from the summit of the hill’.
   Inconsequential: mortem crudelem passi sunt: ‘a cruel death was suffered’ – omission of ‘by them’. Omission of a pronoun agent in cases of active to passive transposition is an inconsequential error.
   Inconsequential: omission of mox. In a section of this length the incorrect translation or omission of minor conjunctions and adverbs is an inconsequential error.
   More serious: multi Galli de summo colle a Romanis deiecti sunt: ‘many Gauls threw the Romans down from the top of the hill’. Failure to recognise the passive voice and the ablative of agent is a more serious error. |
| (x)      | hoc modo igitur urbs Roma non virtute militum sed clamore anserum servata est.
   In this way therefore the city of Rome was saved not by the courage of the soldiers but by the noise of the geese. | 5 | virtute
   Accept ‘by the virtue’.
   servata est
   Accept ‘was protected’/’was kept safe’.
   Inconsequential: hoc modo: ‘in that way’. A ‘near miss’ in vocabulary, which does not compromise the sense, is an inconsequential error.
   More serious: servata est: ‘will be saved’. A past tense translated as future is a more serious error. |
