The number of marks is given in brackets \([ \ ]\) at the end of each question or part question.

The total number of marks for this paper is 75.

You are advised to spend about 10 minutes reading the Resource Booklet, about 35 minutes on Section A and about 40 minutes on Section B.

Quality of Written Communication will be assessed in this paper.

This document consists of 12 pages. Any blank pages are indicated.
Read all the documents in the Resource Booklet before you answer the questions.

Question 1 (a), (b) and (c) refers to Document 1
Close roads on Sundays for ‘open street’ activities?

In your answers to all parts of Question 1, you should use the exact words of the author. You must give only the argument element asked for and include no other material.

1 (a) State the conclusion given by the author in paragraph 3 of Document 1 in support of the ‘open streets’ proposal and a reason they give to support this.

(c) State two examples used in different parts of Document 1 and briefly state what each is intended to exemplify (illustrate).

(d) State three different argument indicator words used in Document 2 and the argument element each one indicates.

  e.g. therefore – conclusion

2 In Document 3, Safe Speed expressed concern:

‘We need to be responsible by teaching children to respect the roads rather than teaching them that roads are sometimes playgrounds.’

State whether or not this is a conclusion. Explain why this is so, by referring to the text.

In Document 1 the author offers the following evidence about the Colombian city of Bogotá to support the UK proposal to close some residential roads on Sundays to enable public activities.

‘A third of the population, about 2 million, take part each week.’

Explain two ways in which this response might not be representative of a possible public response to ‘open streets’ in other cities such as London.

4 (a) In Document 3, Streetplaylondon claims:

‘Sunday Play-Streets are a low cost, and therefore very desirable play opportunity.’

State an assumption that is needed to support this reasoning.

............................................................................................................................................................................................................................................................................................................................ [3]

(b) (i) In Document 1, the Deputy Prime Minister claims:

‘If you ask adults if they used to play near their homes as children, 71% will tell you they did. That compares to just 21% of children now. It has to change.’

State an assumption that is needed to support this reasoning.

............................................................................................................................................................................................................................................................................................................................ [3]

(ii) One possible explanation for a decrease in the number of people saying that they played outside as children is the increase in the amount of traffic in recent years.

Suggest one plausible alternative explanation for this change.

............................................................................................................................................................................................................................................................................................................................ [2]

5 Suggest one reason of your own to support the following possible claim:

Children gain greater benefits from playing outside in streets than they do from playing in school playgrounds.

You must give only one reason and not add any other argument elements.

[3]
Consider the argument presented in Document 3 by a Conservative MP.

Explain one weakness in the support that the reasoning gives to the conclusion.

You should make one developed point that refers directly to the text, assessing the link between the reasoning and the conclusion.
Assess the credibility of Document 2 from Keep Sunday Special.

You should make two points.

Each point should identify and use a relevant credibility criterion to assess the credibility of the document. You should support this with reference to the text and explain how this reference supports your assessment.

In Document 3 identify one claim and its source that would be consistent with the AA’s Head of Road Safety’s claim:

‘The plan would be difficult to implement.’

[6] [2]
Assess the credibility of the following claim made by streetplaylondon in Document 3:

“We have already seen through the Street-Play project that children playing locally and going in and out of each other’s homes is a key contributor to neighbourhood relations.”

(a) Apply three different credibility criteria to explain how these may strengthen or weaken the credibility of this claim.

In your answer you should:
- assess the credibility of this particular claim
- suggest what else you need to know to make each of these three assessments.

(b) Based on your assessment in 9(a), come to an overall judgement about whether the credibility of the claim made by streetplaylondon is strong or weak.

In your answer you should state your judgement and support it by:

- weighing up the relative importance of the credibility criteria selected
- explaining which credibility criterion you consider to be more important in this case.
10 Write a reasoned case which comes to a judgement as to whether regular Sunday ‘open streets’ would be likely to have a beneficial impact upon society if they were introduced. You should assess:

- the relative credibility of the sides giving their views for and against Sunday ‘open streets’
- the relative plausibility (likelihood) that Sunday ‘open streets’ would have a positive or a negative impact upon society.

Your answer should include sustained comparisons within each of these tasks and must refer to the material within the documents in addition to your own ideas.
If additional answer space is required, you should use the following lined page(s). The question number(s) must be clearly shown in the margins.
