Mark Scheme for June 2016

OCR (Oxford Cambridge and RSA) is a leading UK awarding body, providing a wide range of qualifications to meet the needs of candidates of all ages and abilities. OCR qualifications include AS/A Levels, Diplomas, GCSEs, Cambridge Nationals, Cambridge Technicals, Functional Skills, Key Skills, Entry Level qualifications, NVQs and vocational qualifications in areas such as IT, business, languages, teaching/training, administration and secretarial skills.

It is also responsible for developing new specifications to meet national requirements and the needs of students and teachers. OCR is a not-for-profit organisation; any surplus made is invested back into the establishment to help towards the development of qualifications and support, which keep pace with the changing needs of today's society.

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and students, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which marks were awarded by examiners. It does not indicate the details of the discussions which took place at an examiners' meeting before marking commenced.

All examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the published question papers and the report on the examination.

OCR will not enter into any discussion or correspondence in connection with this mark scheme.

SECTION A READING

Question 1

TOO SMART FOR OUR OWN GOOD? Outline concisely the key benefits of “the internet of things”.

CRITERIA

Candidates should demonstrate that they can:

- Read and understand texts, selecting material appropriate to purpose, collating from different sources (AO2 i).

INSTRUCTIONS TO EXAMINERS -1

We are not marking writing in Section A unless the expression is so bad that it impedes communication. Identify each point made clearly.

	Notes on the Task	Marks	Guidance
1	General - Be prepared to acknowledge and reward responses which, although comparatively deficient in the number of points, nevertheless show clear understanding of the passage through a high order of skill in synthesis and structuring. Higher Band (1+2) responses are likely to identify a range of key points and convey them concisely, using the candidate's own words as far as possible in order to convey a clear overview of the material. Responses will be consistently focused on the task and well organised with little or no excess material. There may be occasional blurring of points, particularly at the lower end of the range. Middle Band (3+4) responses are likely to include a range of relevant points, most of which will be clearly identified. Focus on the task is clear but there may not be an attempt at concision, or there may be over-condensation leading to some blurring of points. There will be an attempt to organise although at the lower end of the range answers may include unnecessary detail and be over-reliant on the sequence of the original passage. There will be evidence that the passage and task have been understood, possibly by selective lifting. Lower Band (5+6) responses are likely to identify clearly only a limited number of relevant points: understanding of the passage may not be secure although at the higher end of the range, there is likely to be evidence of a general understanding of the material. Responses may lack focus and organisation and are likely to be very short or of excessive length as a result of including unnecessary or irrelevant material and/or excessive lifting from the original passage.	12

Question 2 TOO SMART FOR OUR OWN GOOD? How does the article convince you of the advantages AND disadvantages of “the internet of things?”

CRITERIA

Candidates should demonstrate that they can:

- Explain and evaluate how writers use presentational features to achieve effects and engage and influence the reader (AO2 iii).

INSTRUCTIONS TO EXAMINERS – 2

1 We are not marking writing in Section A unless the expression is so bad that it impeded communication.

2 Use the Band descriptors in conjunction with the standardisation scripts to arrive at your mark.

3 Indicate the band and mark with a brief comment, taken from the band descriptors, if appropriate.

	Notes on the Task	Marks	Guidance
2	General Candidates may offer some comment on how the images and headings reinforce the central idea of transforming our lives by the development of linked up technology. They may explore the “wiring design” linking of the graphics and link those in turn to the headings and captions. Candidates may consider the structure of the piece which moves from the “fairy tale” life in the day of style to a more considered and balanced account of the future to some clear criticisms of the probable downside it will entail. Attention to “But before you ask” will be critical. Candidates could explore the implied contrast between the glamour and luxury of what is portrayed: its silliness and excess and the unflattering account of the disadvantages. There are many examples where the language is used to create, emphasise and enhance these points: repeated references to “smart watch”; unusual juxtapositions: “scroll down”; the persistent personification of gadgets	14	 in the body of the answer indicates clear relevant points.  in the margin indicates use of supporting reference.  indicates points not fully expressed.  indicates strong thoughtful comment  may be used to indicate lack of examples  indicates misunderstanding.  indicates irrelevant comment.

Notes on the Task	Marks	Guidance
Higher Band (1 +2) responses are likely to focus their comments clearly on the ways in which the content of the passage encourages one view and then develops a series of counter arguments and may offer some insightful comment on the more subtle manipulation of the reader's perceptions. They will make consistently analytical and more developed comments on the language used, supported by fully appropriate references. There will be good understanding of how the images and headings reinforce the text, and responses may also refer to the way the writer's opinion is implied through the use of direct quotations and personal testimony. Middle Band (3+4) responses are likely to show some appreciation of the ways in which the passage focuses on the changes of attitude to new technologies. There may be some consideration of how the article seeks to engage the reader's emotions with on the one hand references to a luxurious imminent lifestyle and some dire warnings of limited freedoms on the other. There is likely to be some comment on the ways in which the headings and visual images contribute to this. There may be some attempt to explain language effects, such as "like smart... are cool...they are fun, too" but it is unlikely to be sustained, and not always firmly linked to the writer's purpose. Lower Band (5+6) responses are likely to show only a rudimentary understanding of the task and will make general, mainly unsupported comments about the writer's use of language, possibly achieving little more than the naming of a device. There may be some misunderstanding of the text and responses at this level will probably consist mainly of paraphrase/summary of the content and description of the images.

Question 3 STEVE JOBS WAS A LOW-TECH PARENT. How does the writer present a variety of responses to technology and its place in families?

CRITERIA Candidates should demonstrate that they can

- Develop and sustain interpretations of writer's ideas and perspectives (AO2ii)

INSTRUCTIONS TO EXAMINERS – 3

1 We are not marking writing in Section A unless the expression is so bad that it impeded communication.

2 Use the Band descriptors in conjunction with the standardisation scripts to arrive at your mark.

3 Indicate the band and mark with a brief comment, taken from the band descriptors, if appropriate.

	Notes on the Task	Marks	Guidance
3	General - Candidates are expected to show understanding of the writer's witty response to the parents and the attitudes he describes. Good answers will see that the differences are quite profound: less effective ones will tend to generalize them. Candidates may explore the effects created by the writer's changing tones of amazement/mock amazement/ serious/mock seriousness. The structure allows for an increasing degree of liberality and sympathetic reason as it develops: until it cleverly reverts to where it started: the Jobs' dinner table. Candidates may explore the effects of the series of differing references to/ endorsements by allegedly "important" people whose domestic lives fail to accurately reflect their public personas. There are some very and some less accessible examples of rhetorical embellishment: stronger candidates will analyse to good effect and, hopefully, with some enjoyment. For example: "nerd's paradise"; "allocating ascetic time limits"; "bathe in the glow of" "accuse ... of being fascists"; "Period. Ever." And so on.	14	 in the body of the answer indicates clear relevant points.  in the margin indicates use of supporting reference.  indicates points not fully expressed.  indicates strong thoughtful comment NE may be used to indicate lack of examples MR indicates misunderstanding. NAQ indicates irrelevant comment.

Notes on the Task	Marks	Guidance
Higher Band (1+2) responses should offer some quite detailed analysis of the descriptive and evocative language and tone used. Some more subtle appreciation may be shown of the way the writer stresses his own involvement/amazement and modulates this to both ridicule and warn on a serious topic. Some may consider the effects of the circular structure and the changes in language and tone that go with it. Middle Band (3+4) responses are likely to show generally secure understanding of the writer's situation and may identify and try to comment on examples of powerfully effective language, but be less confident in explaining how effects are conveyed to the reader. Lower Band (5+6) responses are likely to show only a rudimentary understanding of the task with largely unsupported comment. There is likely to be some misunderstanding of the text. Responses at this level will consist almost entirely of an attempted summary of the content of the article with some attempt to spot literary devices.

SECTION B: WRITING (Candidates answer EITHER 4 OR 5)CRITERIA

Candidates should demonstrate that they can:

- Write to communicate clearly, effectively and imaginatively, using and adapting forms and selecting vocabulary appropriate to task and purpose in ways that engage the reader (AO3 i)
- Organise information and ideas into structured and sequenced sentences, paragraphs and whole texts, using a variety of linguistic and structural features to support cohesion and overall coherence (AO3 ii)
- Use a range of sentence structures for clarity, purpose and effect, with accurate punctuation and spelling (AO3 iii).

INSTRUCTIONS TO EXAMINERS – 4 or 5

- 1 Use  for good ideas and  for merits of expression to show how you have formed your judgement. Use a wavy line  underneath the candidate's writing, or in the margin  to show awkward or incorrect syntax/unclear expression. Use a caret to show omission.
- 2 You should write a brief summative comment drawn from the wording of the descriptors to show how you have arrived at your final marks.
- 3 For writing tasks, LENGTH is not in itself a criterion.
Short answers (50-100 words) may well be self-penalising in terms of the marking criteria (eg control and development of ideas; structure; maintaining the reader's interest), but may still demonstrate significant qualities. Very short answers (fewer than 50 words) should not normally be marked higher than Band 7.
- 4 Award TWO separate marks, one for AOs 3(i) + (ii), one for AO3 (iii), using the appropriate instructions and Band Descriptors. Be prepared to use the full range of marks in each sub-set.
- 5 Use the standardisation scripts as guides to your assessment.
- 6 The generic marking criteria for Writing appear after the Notes on the Task.

4		Expect a wide range of responses. Be prepared to reward those which show a clear awareness of the purpose of the question. There should be evidence of an attempt to use language to generate support from the intended audience. There is no expectation that candidates selecting this question will continue the themes of the texts. Look for a well-structured and coherent response that adopts an appropriate tone.	40
5		Candidates have been asked to produce a piece of personal writing. Expect a wide range of responses, and note that there is free choice of topic. There is no expectation that candidates selecting this question will continue the themes of the texts. Look to reward those responses that are well crafted and clearly focused on the task. There should be some intention to use language to create effects.	40
