Mark Scheme for November 2016

OCR (Oxford Cambridge and RSA) is a leading UK awarding body, providing a wide range of qualifications to meet the needs of candidates of all ages and abilities. OCR qualifications include AS/A Levels, Diplomas, GCSEs, Cambridge Nationals, Cambridge Technicals, Functional Skills, Key Skills, Entry Level qualifications, NVQs and vocational qualifications in areas such as IT, business, languages, teaching/training, administration and secretarial skills.

It is also responsible for developing new specifications to meet national requirements and the needs of students and teachers. OCR is a not-for-profit organisation; any surplus made is invested back into the establishment to help towards the development of qualifications and support, which keep pace with the changing needs of today's society.

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and students, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which marks were awarded by examiners. It does not indicate the details of the discussions which took place at an examiners' meeting before marking commenced.

All examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the published question papers and the report on the examination.

OCR will not enter into any discussion or correspondence in connection with this mark scheme.

MARK SCHEME:SECTION A READING

Question 1 HOW DOGS ARE TEACHING YOUNG OFFENDERS NEW TRICKS. Outline concisely what you learn about dog re-homing and its place in the Polmont Young Offenders' Institution.

CRITERIA

Candidates should demonstrate that they can:

- Read and understand texts, selecting material appropriate to purpose, collating from different sources (AO2 i).

INSTRUCTIONS TO EXAMINERS -1

We are not marking writing in Section A unless the expression is so bad that it impedes communication. Identify each point made clearly

		Marks	Guidance
1	Candidates may refer to some of the following points: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. (Abandoned) dogs are trained for re-homing (at/in the institution) 2. It provides treatment/ therapy (or similar) for the inmates. 3. (Particular/ carefully chosen) dogs are placed with (particular) inmates..... 4. Who volunteer for the scheme 5. They are taught/learn to get on with each other/ they form a strong bond with each other/ they love each other/ trust each other/build trust/gain confidence in each other 6. Special area/equipment is demarcated/allotted/dedicated to the training 7. It lasts for eight weeks 8. It happens twice a week 9. It started in 2011/ five years ago 10. It came from a project in the USA 11. It is the only one in the UK 12. It is managed by Rebecca Leonardi 13. It contributes to the (ethos of) the learning environment/ shows that learning can be positive (or similar)/ brings a sense of purpose/ changes your perspective/ get back to normality 14. The inmates learn new skills (communication, data recording etc.) 15. It can then lead them to gain qualifications 16. It develops new qualities: self esteem/ self confidence/ eases angst/ patience/ maturity/feeling good about themselves 17. It is a very successful/ popular feature of the institution (but no more for the statistics) 18. It is not a miracle cure/ it doesn't work for everyone 	12	Use  over the word or phrase that specifically relates to one of the given points. Use  if the point is made twice. Use  if the point is blurred/not fully expressed. Use  for loss of focus on the task. Use  to indicate any misunderstanding of text

	Notes on the Task	Mars	Guidance
1	General - Be prepared to acknowledge and reward responses which, although comparatively deficient in the number of points, nevertheless show clear understanding of the passage through a high order of skill in synthesis and structuring. Higher Band (1+2) responses are likely to identify a range of key points and convey them concisely, using the candidate's own words as far as possible in order to convey a clear overview of the material. Responses will be consistently focused on the task and well organised with little or no excess material. There may be occasional blurring of points, particularly at the lower end of the range. Middle Band (3+4) responses are likely to include a range of relevant points, most of which will be clearly identified. Focus on the task is clear but there may not be an attempt at concision, or there may be over-condensation leading to some blurring of points. There will be an attempt to organise although at the lower end of the range answers may include unnecessary detail and be over-reliant on the sequence of the original passage. There will be evidence that the passage and task have been understood, possibly by selective lifting. Lower Band (5+6) responses are likely to identify clearly only a limited number of relevant points: understanding of the passage may not be secure although at the higher end of the range, there is likely to be evidence of a general understanding of the material. Responses may lack focus and organisation and are likely to be very short or of excessive length as a result of including unnecessary or irrelevant material and/or excessive lifting from the original passage.	12

Question 2. HOW DOGS ARE TEACHING YOUNG OFFENDERS NEW TRICKS. How does the article persuade you that the young offenders and the dogs benefit from each other in this scheme?

CRITERIA

Candidates should demonstrate that they can:

- Explain and evaluate how writers use presentational features to achieve effects and engage and influence the reader (AO2 iii).

INSTRUCTIONS TO EXAMINERS – 2

- 1 We are not marking writing in Section A unless the expression is so bad that it impeded communication.
- 2 Use the Band descriptors in conjunction with the standardisation scripts to arrive at your mark.
- 3 Indicate the band and mark with a brief comment, taken from the band descriptors, if appropriate.

	Notes on the Task	Mars	Guidance
2	General Candidates may offer some comment on how the picture and heading/subheading reinforce the central idea of the scheme. They may explore the smiling canine at the top to the development of the article. Candidates may consider the structure of the piece which moves from description to exposition and analysis back to description Candidates could explore the implied contrasts and comparisons between the effects on the participating dogs and young offenders. There are many examples of evocative and emotive language used to describe their interactions. This may suggest a contrast between the apparent light heartedness of the article and the deadly seriousness of the programme. Reward those who think it starts with a pathetic fallacy and exemplify same (!) Reward only those who use the term anthropomorphism and define/explain it clearly and support it with textual examples There is a lot to be rewarded in a close reading of the title One mark only for the stats unless you are very strongly persuaded to 2. Reward the structural point about the 'happy' ending of Kev and Diesel and see that it contrasts with the opening impressions. There is a lot to reward in a close analysis of the picture: we will discuss on Thursday. Reward 'anecdotal' only if it is clearly exemplified and understood And so on.	14	 in the body of the answer indicates clear relevant points.  in the margin indicates use of supporting reference.  indicates points not fully expressed.  indicates strong thoughtful comment  may be used to indicate lack of examples  indicates misunderstanding.  indicates irrelevant comment.

Notes on the Task	Mars	Guidance
Higher Band (1 +2) responses are likely to focus their comments clearly on the ways in which the content of the passage encourages respect for the young offenders and the dogs and may offer some insightful comment on the more subtle manipulation of the reader's perceptions. They may make consistently analytical and more developed comments on the language used, supported by fully appropriate references. There will be good understanding of how the image and headings reinforce the text, and responses may also refer to the way the writer's opinion is implied through the use of direct quotations and personal testimony. There are stylistic contrasts to note in detail: description/endorsement/quotation in contrasting registers/and statistical analysis. There is a use of listing, repetition of key words, notes of caution and a positive conclusion. Middle Band (3+4) responses are likely to show some appreciation of the ways in which the passage focuses on the changes brought about in the lives of both parties. There may be some consideration of how the article seeks to engage the reader's emotions, by reference to "tail windmilling" "wriggles on her back" for example. There is likely to be some comment on the ways in which the heading/subheading and visual image contribute to this. There may be some attempt to explain language effects, such as the contrasts between the diction of the offenders and the authorities, which may not be always firmly linked to the writer's purpose. Lower Band (5+6) responses are likely to show only a rudimentary understanding of the task and will make general, mainly unsupported comments about the writer's use of language, possibly achieving little more than the naming of a device. There may be some misunderstanding of the text and responses at this level will probably consist mainly of paraphrase/summary of the content and description of the images.

Question 3 *Why young offenders should not be treated so harshlyCRITERIA Candidates should demonstrate that they can

- Develop and sustain interpretations of writer's ideas and perspectives (AO2ii)

INSTRUCTIONS TO EXAMINERS – 3

- 1 We are not marking writing in Section A unless the expression is so bad that it impeded communication.
- 2 Use the Band descriptors in conjunction with the standardisation scripts to arrive at your mark.
- 3 Indicate the band and mark with a brief comment, taken from the band descriptors, if appropriate.

	Notes on the Task	Mars	Guidance
3	General - Candidates are expected to show understanding of the writer's purpose and the means used to achieve this. Examiners should be prepared to credit different approaches by the candidates in responding to the task. Candidates may explore the effects created by the graphic description of the writer's experiences as a teenager and the parallel experiences he describes in those he counsels. There is a clear juxtaposition between the extreme of the violence of what is described and the scientific objectivity applied to it. The description and commentary is then developed into a polemic/argument/diatribe against government sentencing policy with The Royal Society's Report. The conclusion of the penultimate paragraph "it isn't" is perhaps the most obvious of the rhetorical devices the writer mobilises. Candidates may explore the points made about the differences between adolescents and adults, the strong personal appeal that is developed as well as the evidence of strong personal engagement and the unblushing account of very violent actions. The tone develops from factual recounting through acutely analysed case studies to controlled outrage and anger. Higher Band (1+2) responses should offer some quite detailed analysis of the descriptive and emotive language used. Some more subtle appreciation may be shown of the way the writer synthesizes the violence of the behaviour with calm description and scientific objectification leading to a repressed sense of political/institutional outrage. Middle Band (3+4) responses are likely to show generally secure understanding of the writer's purpose and intention and may identify and try to comment on examples of powerfully effective language, but be less confident in explaining how effects are conveyed to the reader.	14	 in the body of the answer indicates clear relevant points.  in the margin indicates use of supporting reference.  ? indicates points not fully expressed.  + indicates strong thoughtful comment  NE may be used to indicate lack of examples  MR indicates misunderstanding.  NAQ indicates irrelevant comment.

Notes on the Task	Mars	Guidance
Lower Band (5+6) responses are likely to show only a rudimentary understanding of the task with largely unsupported comment. There is likely to be some misunderstanding of the text. Responses at this level will consist almost entirely of an attempted summary of the content of the article with some attempt to spot literary devices. Reward those who think it starts with a pathetic fallacy and exemplify same (!) Reward only those who use the term anthropomorphism and define/explain it clearly and support it with textual examples There is a lot to be rewarded in a close reading of the title One mark only for the stats unless you are very strongly persuaded to 2. Reward the structural point about the 'happy' ending of Kev and Diesel and see that it contrasts with the opening impressions. There is a lot to reward in a close analysis of the picture: we will discuss on Thursday. Reward 'anecdotal' only if it is clearly exemplified and understood.

SECTION B: WRITING (Candidates answer EITHER 4 OR 5)CRITERIA

Candidates should demonstrate that they can:

- Write to communicate clearly, effectively and imaginatively, using and adapting forms and selecting vocabulary appropriate to task and purpose in ways that engage the reader (AO3 i)
- Organise information and ideas into structured and sequenced sentences, paragraphs and whole texts, using a variety of linguistic and structural features to support cohesion and overall coherence (AO3 ii)
- Use a range of sentence structures for clarity, purpose and effect, with accurate punctuation and spelling (AO3 iii).

INSTRUCTIONS TO EXAMINERS – 4 or 5

- 1 Use  for good ideas and  for merits of expression to show how you have formed your judgement. Use a wavy line  underneath the candidate's writing, or in the margin  to show awkward or incorrect syntax/unclear expression. Use a caret to show omission.
- 2 You should write a brief summative comment drawn from the wording of the descriptors to show how you have arrived at your final marks.
- 3 For writing tasks, LENGTH is not in itself a criterion.

Short answers (50-100 words) may well be self-penalising in terms of the marking criteria (eg control and development of ideas; structure; maintaining the reader's interest), but may still demonstrate significant qualities. Very short answers (fewer than 50 words) should not normally be marked higher than Band 7.
- 4 Award TWO separate marks, one for AOs 3(i) + (ii), one for AO3 (iii), using the appropriate instructions and Band Descriptors. Be prepared to use the full range of marks in each sub-set.
- 5 Use the standardisation scripts as guides to your assessment.
- 6 The generic marking criteria for Writing appear after the Notes on the Task.

Question		Notes on the Task	Marks	Guidance
4		Expect a wide range of responses to this personal writing prompt. Be prepared to reward those which show a clear awareness of the purpose of the question. There should be evidence of an attempt to use language with appropriate detail and sensitivity. There is no expectation that candidates selecting this question will continue the themes of the texts. Look for a well-structured and coherent response that adopts an appropriate tone.	40
5		Candidates have been asked to produce a piece of persuasive/ argumentative writing. Expect a wide range of responses, and note that “freedom” can be whatever candidates interpret it as. There is no expectation that candidates selecting this question will continue the themes of the texts. Look to reward those responses that are well crafted and clearly focused on the task and the audience. There should be some intention to use language to create persuasive rhetorical effects.	40
