3b	Two points well developed. The first point being language and cultural issues and the second pressure on services (water). Slightly less well developed points about illegality and reunification take this to full marks. Place specific detail accurate.
3ai	Two valid points. Both are explained, one in terms of comparison and the other re accuracy for development marks. In this case both points are supported by specific reference to countries and statistics on the graph, which could also have achieved the development mark.
1b	A range of different players fully evidenced and well developed understanding of their roles in driving economic change. Two players with thorough understanding sufficient for full marks.
3aii	Strong answer which adequately covers two main points. The first point being job prospects / wages and the second being access to services including education/skills.
1d A02	A well structured discursive response which includes thorough knowledge and understanding and application and evaluation. Detailed and accurate place specific knowledge and in this case used comparatively.
1d A01	A well structured discursive response which includes thorough knowledge and understanding and application and evaluation. Detailed and accurate place specific knowledge and in this case used comparatively.
1c	Ability to purchase goods and ability to purchase housing - 2 points well developed to explain inequalities for full marks.
1a	Open green space sufficient for evidence and explanation provided by accessibility and aesthetically pleasing.
4A02	A strong level 3 response in both A01 and A02. Thorough knowledge and understanding of UN strategies. Thorough evaluation of UN strategies including importance of coordinating work of NGO's and government plus the importance of cooperation at rural/urban scales in protecting human rights such as women's rights, education, health and right to life/life expectancy. Not full marks more limited references provided to strategies of other organisations.
