Candidate Marks Report

Series: 6 2018

This candidate's script has been assessed using On-Screen Marking. The marks are therefore not shown on the script itself, but are summarised in the table below.

Assessment Code:	H573
Component Code :	01
_
	Assessment Code : Component Code :

In the table below 'Total Mark' records the mark scored by this candidate. 'Max Mark' records the Maximum Mark available for the question.

Quésilon
		,
2		Hume & successfully argues that observation
. ,		does not prove the existence of God to a very weak nextent. This is becoure Й		the arguments of Paley along with the arguments of fally along with Aquinas worked better in to disprove prove the existence of and through prove the existence of God through
., .	,	observation via their teleological
	,	arguments. David thume is a enlightenment period philosopher who considered a j	William Poley orig Paley put forward
, , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , ,		the teleological argument for the ,		existence of the universe by using an analogy of a watch on a •	·	houth He & outlined a scenario in · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	which we found a rock on a heath
, ,		firstly, on this heath we looked at
,		it then put it down as it is too simplistic and we automatically assume it has obready been there forever.
,		Then we find a watch and we know that it had a creator as it has been the top not been there forever next as it has features of complexity that a rock doesn't. These · · · · ·	include motions, wattable comparational that it has multiple components,

__©OCR

Question

Part

Question	Part
		then he raises the and, most ,		importantly, that it has a purpose.
		Then he raises the example of an
	* ;	eye. It also have all of these ·  	components so we must also assume , i ', 	that it has a screator. The
	* *	the annuments of Hume Hume othernes to disprove Polou's idea Aguings also theme attempt to disprove the Paley's orgument and uses the
-6		example by saying that there is a ,		categorical imperative here and that gue are a Paley is assuming that · .	there a creator wrong in assuming _		that it is a Christian God who is the creator of this our world. Surely
	,	it is jumping a step to say that God
	. 4	shows himself through created all of this 4		around us. Also, if Bloy's surely it ,	¥ , .	is not the same to compare a watch, something that is a me infinitely simpler, than the to the universe, 	something that is supposedly time
	, ,,	unliterated in its scope and magnitude.
		However, I believe Paley here does a much better job than thume as since the universe while
,

__@OCR

Question	Part	· ·
		Hume may be right in souring that .	they are not the same and # Paley may be jumping a stop; surely .	if the so universe is much grander that is all the more reason for ,		there to be a creator for all of , ,, , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , ,	this: Therefore showing that them argues to a weak extent.
		of God through observation as he
		of God through observation as he says, that are everything in this 3 . 1	universe has a suppose. By This is something •••	that he has observed in the universe for example, as the purpose of an arrow speet is to hit a target things held something more bornerful to greade them to their purpose in this rase an arrow need an archar.
	1	Agumas is saying Humans need quidance to in the form of God.
		Huma also tries to disprove this by saying that he is furn assuming that humans need this guidance and that they have a purpose in
	-	life like everything else. If we have a furpose like an arrow doer then

G OCR

Question	Part
,
	k r	wheet is it? Here You could also argue 11/	that certain things in the universe
	· 	that certain things in the universe do not need such guidance for example
	 	the aid has know cook broning do not need quidance to perform their purpose However, I believe that ;	Aguinas overcomes this because God provides is & & satisfactory answer to os on explanation for what is guiding abything that does not have a clear guide. Therefore . ;	noighling thune's weakness through Aguinas! Strength.
	. ' ;
		In conclusion, While Hume provides
- 1		us with reasonable explanations for
, , , , ,		the why of the teleological arguments
	( 	one false. I strongly believe '' 	Palay and Aquinas do a better job.
		and the importance of faith in and the traver of four the 3.,		Boethius puts forward the view
	·  -	that God is an eternal being.
		This means that God is outside of 1.		Space and time and trather than sering things, as they happen, as
	•

__@OCR

Question	Part	. with an everlasting God, he sees
	111.	the past present and future all 1 1 1	 :	at once white the imag some find issue in this as they draw that , i '	this limits human free will. However ,		Boethius view that this does is not the ease is convincing as the · · ·	10
		forward the view
	; =	that God is letternal Lad The ······································		idea of God being eternal is a · ·	-	view that is common in many , ,		religious communities. Est is within · .	God's nature that he is infinite,
- , ,,	 	and however it is up for debate whether he experiences time with · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	us or if he has already experience what & has happened and what is going to happen It is This suggests that there is only one possible
	,	that there is only one possible
,		happened and will pappen, and happened and will happen, and · ·	that sole outcome is the one that does occur. Therefore, this  	idea that nothing else could have happened or can happen is means that we actually had no free ·	Frat we actually had no free
,

CONTROLOGO CONTR

___©OCR

will in the matter thowever. Poethin everomes this by saying that it is still within our free will to do there actions, just because God does know what will happen, it doesn't mean that he decided that it was going to happen, it is still within our power Boethins is correct as this idea of an eternal God is in line with God's omniscience But while it does may to some extent go against God's omniberolence, it is our free will and God not doing anything to some greatest this is not that it does not limit our human free will and God not doing anything to the ones not limit our human free will does not limit our human free will thought view by arguing for the idea of an evertosting God. This is the idea that God exists within	Question Part Boethau everomes this by saying that it is still within our free will to do there actions, just be aure God does know what will happen, it doesn't mean that he decided that it was going to happen, it is still within our power Boethaus is correct as this idea of an eternal God is in line with God's emniscience. But while it does may to some extent go against God's emniberolence, it is our tree will and God not doing anything to some the formers. Boethaus' point that it does not limit our human free will does not limit our human free will thomewer, you can disprove Boethaus' theory view by arguing for the idea of an exerpsting God. This is that it is still within our free will to do there actions, just be auxe God does know what will happen, it doesn't mean that he decided that it was going to happen, it is still within our power Boethius is correct as this idea of an eternal God is in line with God's omniscience But while it does may to some extent go against God's omniberolence, it is our free will and God not doing anything to and God not doing anything to sope this only works to further proves Boethius' point that it does not limit our human free will thowever, you an disprove Boethius' theory view by arguing for the idea of an everlosting God. This is		will in the matter tlowever because God does know what will happen, it doesn't mean that he decided that it was going to happen, it is still within our power. Boethius is correct as this idea of an eternal God is in line with God's omniscience. But while it does may to some extent go against God's omniberolence, it is suffered this is not the coases as it is our tree will and God not doing anything to sope this only works to further proves. Boethius point that it does not limit our human free will. However, you can disprove Boethius' theory view by arguing for the idea of an exerbisting God. This is because God does know what will happen, it doesn't mean that he decided that it was going to happen, it is still within our power. Boethins is correct as this idea of an eternal God is in line with God's amniscience. But while it does may to some extent go against God's amniberolence, it is our tree will and God not doing anything to sope this only works to further proves. Boethins' point that it does not limit our human free will. However, you can disprove Boethins' theory view by arguing for the idea of an exerbisting God. This is		that it is still within our free
happen, it doesn't mean that he decided that it was going to happen, it is still within our power. Beething is correct as this idea of an eternal God is in line with God's amniscience. But while it does may to some extent go against God's amniberolence, it is our tree will and God not doing anything to sope this only works to further proves. Boethius point that it does not limit our human free will. However, you can disprove Boethius theory view by arguing for the idea of an everbating God. This is decided that it was going to happen, it is still within our power Beethius is correct as this idea of an eternal and is in line with God's omniscience. But while it does may to some extent go against and 5 omniberolence, it is and God not doing anything to and God not doing anything to stop this only works to further proves Boethius point that it alogs not limit our human free will thouser, you can disprove Boethius thoogy view by arguing for the idea of an exerpsting God. This is happen, it is still within our power Boethius is correct as this idea of an eternal God is in line with God's omnistience. But while it does may to some extent go against God's omniberolence, it is our tree will and God not doing anything to stop this only works to further proves Boethius point that it does not limit our human free will. However, you can disprove Boethius theory view by arguing for the idea of an everlosting God. This is	1.1
powder Berethius is correct as this idea of an eternal God is in line with God's amnistience But while it does may to some extent go against God's amnibevolence, it is our tree will and God not doing anything to further proves Boethius' point that it does not limit our human free will. However, you can disprove Boethius' theory view by arguing for the idea of an everlosting God. This is	 	1 k idea of an eternal God is in line with God's amnistience But while it does may to some extent go against God's amniberolence It's surforted this is not the will and God not doing anything to stop this only works to further proves Boethius' point that it does not limit our human free will. However, you can disprove Boethius' that it work view by arguing for the idea of an everbating God. This is with God's omniscience But while it does may to some extent go against God's omniberolence, it is and supported this is not the cosses as it is our tree will and God not doing anything to stop this only works to further proves Boethius' point that it does not limit our humain free will. However, you can disprove Boethius' theory view by arguing for the idle of an everbating God. This is it does may to some extent go against Cod's ampiberolence, it is extent go extent from this is not the extent go and cod not doing anything to extent go extent go extent go extent go and this is the extent go anything to for the idea of an exerbsting Cod. This is		idea of an eternal and is in line against God's amniberolence, it's Het supported this is not the cosese as it is our tree will and God not doing anything to stop this only works to further proves Boethius' point that it does not limit our human free will. However, you can disprove Boethius' theory view by arguing for the idle of an everbating God. This is		with God's smnissience but while cosses as it is our tree will and God not doing anything to stop this only works to further proves. Boethins' point that it alogs not limit our human free will. However, you can disprove Boethins' theory view by arguing for the idea of an everbeting God. This is		it does may to some extent go
cosses as it is our tree will and God not doing anything to stop this only works to further proves Boethius' point that it does not limit our human free will. However, you can disprove Boethius' theory view by arguing for the idea of an everbeling God. This is		against ad's omniberolence, ++ 15
and God not doing anything to stop this only works to further proves. Boethius' point that it does not limit our human free will. However, you can disprove Boethius' theory view by arguing for the idea of an everbating God. This is	- stop this only works to further proves Boethius' point that it does not limit our human free will. However, you can disprove Boethius' theory view by arguing for the idea of an everbeing God. This is		cosse as it is our free will proves Boethus point that it does not limit our human free will. However, you can disprove Boethus' theory view by arguing for the idea of an everlosting Cod. This is		and god not doing anything to thousever, you can disprove Boethins' theory view by arguing for the idea of an everlosting God. This is		stop this only works to further thowever, you can disprove Boethins' theory view by arguing for the idea of an everlosting God. This is idea of an everlosting. God. This is		all not limit out minour free idea of an everbating. God. This is		Wille idea of an everlosting. God. This is		Hand of against D idea of an everlosting. God. This is		However, you can disprove Boerning.
The state of the s	, v space and time. This is and as if is 100% certain that God		it is 100% certain that God

OND WANDERSHOWN WAS WINDERSHOWN WATER WAS WANDERSHOWN WAS WANDERSHOWN WATER THIS WAREIN JAIS WAS WANDERSHOWN WATER THIS WAREIN JAIS WAS WANDERSHOWN WAS WANDER

Jestion Fait humans have free will as even and doesn't know what will happ next. This is good as it is in line with the God of the Bible who reacts and interacts with his reation However, this goes against the idea that God is perfect as he is constantly changing as the is seeing what happens It also goes against the idea of an omnipotent God as he is limited by the barrier of our space-time and time There There However, it is better than an eternal God as ar the ternal God connot outside of space and time annot be interest with physical creation. However, with an everlosting God, there is no physical must be a physical high more dog resided scientific evidence points to the contrary.
Danley & 100
In conclusion, Boothius is very Successful in explaining that free will is not a problem with an etermal God, instead the problems lie with the idea of an everlasting God who is counstantly changing

© OCR

Part

Question

*128373863408 *

Question	rait
1.	,	The Cataphatic way or via regation
	()	is the approach that says we annot ·	describe God through what he is
	,	and his attributes, but rather through what he is not $1+ is f	e * _	not the best approach to understan····	ding the religious language. That title belongs to A. Hyer's Apothetic way, ofther-the voice known as 1	. · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	the via positive.
	*
	,	The via negativa of is the view that we cannot know God an truly, one we cannot know my true.
		nature, however we do have •	knowledge of what God is not for Example, God is not nateful.
	. ! .!	theretory This provides us with an explanation of God that does not , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , , 	light him to our human understanding of these words. For example  		to say that God is something suggests that God has to meet the and not the opposite. This therefore ·		1 mits and says that God must be something which is TIVOUS NEED STATE OF THE STATE

Question

Part

Question	Part
 		not adequate for something which 	 	being. The problem with this than ,	. 1	being. The problem with this than ,	1	is that saying what God is not does not halp us to get any closer to what God is Soying God tent a floor would argue that t	this goes against the bible as , 	the bible as this goes against the ·	does not describe God as a what ,		he isn't. Therefore, highlighting the futility of the captaphatic way.
1
		A.J. Ayer provides a different
,		approach. Saying rather that God should be described using only positive terms. Such as God is 1	merciful. This is a potentially a bad approach as it possibly brings ·		God down to our lovel, which could be seen as wasphemy. However  		it is good as it does not & talk badly about God.
 		In conclusion, The via positiva is more useful as it only works to empower our idea of God.

© OCR

Question	Part
	'
	-
,
	·

,	·
·
		· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·

© OCR

Question	Part

· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
'
		· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
	\ .
ı .	· · · · · · · · ·
,
	, ,
, , · -
' , ´
_
,
	.
	,

		· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·

__©OCR

* 128373863412-*