

DEVELOPER PROFILE

As a Developer you:

- participate in the development process of the qualification
- prepare and submit draft material as requested
- redraft material incorporating feedback and revisions as required
- review and evaluate various drafts of material under development, providing detailed feedback for improvement as requested
- undertake a thorough review of assessment materials as requested
 - work through assessment materials as if you were the candidate to ensure all questions and tasks can be completed and are accessible to all as requested
 - review the mark scheme and assessment criteria to ensure that all anticipated responses included can be elicited from the assessment material as requested
- prepare and submit content for support resources as requested
- review resources (print and digital) submitted to OCR by educational publishers seeking OCR's endorsement
- prepare for and participate in any related meetings/activities
- complete the required supporting documentation at all stages provide:

- detailed, reasoned and timely responses to tasks
- creative and innovative ideas for qualifications, while working to a brief will be responsible for:

- making sure your knowledge of the qualification and your subject expertise is current
- ensuring you meet deadlines for material to be returned will need to:

- keep up to date by undertaking relevant training
- be able to work under pressurised time constraints

must be:

- a subject expert with a well-developed understanding of the specification, including assessment experience
- skilled at managing multiple commitments at the same time
- able to produce material to a specified brief
- meticulous, paying close attention to detail
- a good communicator and collaborator
- able to use the IT systems and applications necessary to complete your task

