This king of Fairye thanne adoun him sette
Upon a bench of turves, fressh and grene,
And right anon thus seyde he to his queene:

‘My wyf,’ quod he, ‘ther may no wight seye nay;

Th’experience so preveth every day
The tresons whiche that wommen doon to man.
Ten hondred thousand [tales] tellen I kan
Notable of youre untrouthe and brotilnesse.
O Salomon, wys, and richest of richesse,
Fulfilde of sapience and of worldly glorie,
Ful worthy been thy wordes to memorie
To every wight that wit and reson kan.
Thus preiseth he yet the bountee of man:
“Amonges a thousand men yet foond I oon,
But of wommen alle foond I noon.”
Thus seith the king that knoweth youre wikkednesse.
And Jhesus, filius Syrak, as I gesse,
Ne speketh of yow but seelde reverence.
A wilde fyr and corrupt pestilence

So falle upon youre bodies yet to-night. 20

Ne se ye nat this honorable knight,
By cause, alas, that he is blind and old,
His owene man shal make him cokewold.
Lo, where he sit, the lechour, in the tree.

Now wol I graunten, of my magestee, 25

Unto this olde, blinde, worthy knight
That he shal have ayen his eyen sight,
Whan that his wyf wold doon him vileynye.
Thanne shal he knowen al hire harlotrye,
Bothe in repreve of hire and othere mo.'

30

‘Ye shal?’ quod Proserpine, ‘Wol ye so?

Now by my moodres sires soule I swere
That I shal yeven hire suffisant answeere,
And alle wommen after, for hir sake;

35

That, though they be in any gilt ytake,
With face boold they shulle hemself excuse,
And bere hem doun that wolden hem accuse.
For lak of answeere noon of hem shal dien.

Al hadde man seyn a thing with bothe his yen,
Yit shul we wommen visage it hardily, 40

And wepe, and swere, and chide subtilly,
So that ye men shul been as lewed as gees.

What rekketh me of youre auctoritees?

I woot wel that this Jew, this Salomon,
Foond of us wommen fooles many oon. 45

But though that he ne foond no good womman,

Yet hath ther founde many another man

Wommen ful trewe, ful goode, and vertuouse.

Witnessse on hem that dwelle in Cristes hous;

With martirdom they preved hire constance. 50

The Romain geestes eek make remembrance

Of many a verray, trewe wyf also.

In your answer explore the author's use of language, imagery and verse form, and consider ways in which you find this extract characteristic of 'Paradise Lost Books 9 & 10'. [30]

O miserable of happy! is this the end
Of this new glorious world, and me so late
The glory of that glory? who now, become
Accursed of blessed, hide me from the face
Of God, whom to behold was then my height 5
Of happiness: yet well, if here would end
The misery; I deserved it, and would bear
My own deservings; but this will not serve;
All that I eat or drink, or shall beget, 10
Is propagated curse. O voice once heard
Delightfully, Increase and multiply,
Now death to hear! for what can I increase
Or multiply, but curses on my head?
Who of all ages to succeed, but feeling
The evil on him brought by me, will curse 15
My head, Ill fare our ancestor impure,
For this we may thank Adam; but his thanks
Shall be the execration; so besides
Mine own that bide upon me, all from me

Shall with a fierce reflux on me redound, 20

On me as on their natural centre light
Heavy, though in their place. O fleeting joys
Of Paradise, dear bought with lasting woes!

Did I request thee, Maker, from my clay
To mould me man, did I solicit thee 25

From darkness to promote me, or here place
In this delicious garden? as my will

Concurred not to my being, it were but right
And equal to reduce me to my dust,
Desirous to resign, and render back 30

All I received, unable to perform
Thy terms too hard, by which I was to hold
The good I sought not. To the loss of that,
Sufficient penalty, why hast thou added
The sense of endless woes? inexplicable 35

Thy justice seems; yet to say truth, too late,
I thus contest; then should have been refused
Those terms whatever, when they were proposed:

9 Samuel Taylor Coleridge: 'Selected Poems'

Discuss Coleridge's presentation of the relationship between human beings and nature in this extract from 'The Nightingale: A Conversation Poem. April 1798'.

In your answer explore the author's use of language, imagery and verse form, and consider ways in which you find the extract characteristic of Coleridge's work in your selection. [30]

‘The Nightingale’

A Conversation Poem. April 1798

No cloud, no relique of the sunken day
Distinguishes the West, no long thin slip
Of sullen light, no obscure trembling hues.
Come, we will rest on this old mossy bridge!

5

You see the glimmer of the stream beneath,
But hear no murmuring: it flows silently,
O’er its soft bed of verdure. All is still,
A balmy night! and though the stars be dim,
Yet let us think upon the vernal showers

10

That gladden the green earth, and we shall find
A pleasure in the dimness of the stars.
And hark! the Nightingale begins its song,

‘Most musical, most melancholy’ bird!

A melancholy bird! Oh! idle thought!

In nature there is nothing melancholy.

15

But some night-wandering man, whose heart was pierced
With the remembrance of a grievous wrong,
Or slow distemper, or neglected love,
(And so, poor wretch! filled all things with himself,
And made all gentle sounds tell back the tale
Of his own sorrow) he, and such as he,
First named these notes a melancholy strain.
And many a poet echoes the conceit;
Poet who hath been building up the rhyme
When he had better far have stretched his limbs
Beside a brook in mossy forest-dell,
By sun or moon-light, to the influxes
Of shapes and sounds and shifting elements
Surrendering his whole spirit, of his song
And of his fame forgetful! so his fame
Should share in Nature's immortality,
A venerable thing! and so his song
Should make all Nature lovelier, and itself
Be loved like Nature! But 'twill not be so;

And youths and maidens most poetical,
Who lose the deepening twilights of the spring
In ball-rooms and hot theatres, they still
Full of meek sympathy must heave their sighs
O'er Philomela's pity-pleading strains.

10 Alfred, Lord Tennyson: 'Maud'

Discuss ways in which the speaker in this extract from 'Maud' reveals his attitudes to Victorian society.

In your answer explore the author's use of language, imagery and verse form, and consider ways in which you find the extract characteristic of 'Maud'. [30]

Villainy somewhere! whose? One says, we are villains all.

Not he: his honest fame should at least by me be maintained:

But that old man, now lord of the broad estate and the Hall, 5

Dropt off gorged from a scheme that had left us flaccid and drain'd.

25

VI

Why do they prate of the blessings of Peace? we have made them a curse,

10

Pickpockets, each hand lusting for all that is not its own;

And lust of gain, in the spirit of Cain, is it better or worse

Than the heart of the citizen hissing in war on his own hearthstone? 15

VII

But these are the days of advance, the works of the men of mind,

When who but a fool would have faith in a tradesman's ware or his word?

20

Is it peace or war? Civil war, as I think, and that of a kind

The viler, as underhand, not openly bearing the sword.

26

VIII

Sooner or later I too may passively take the print
Of the golden age – why not? I have neither hope nor trust;

25

May make my heart as a millstone, set my face as a flint,

Cheat and be cheated, and die: who knows? we are ashes and dust.

30

IX

Peace sitting under her olive, and slurring the days gone by,

When the poor are hovell'd and hustled together, each
sex, like swine,

When only the ledger lives, and when only not all men
lie; 35

Peace in her vineyard – yes! – but a company forges
the wine.

27

X

And the vitriol madness flushes up in the ruffian's
head,

40

Till the filthy by-lane rings to the yell of the trampled wife,

And chalk and alum and plaster are sold to the poor
for bread,

And the spirit of murder works in the very means of 45

life,

XI

And Sleep must lie down arm'd, for the villainous centre-bits
Grind on the wakeful ear in the hush of the moonless nights,
While another is cheating the sick of a few last gasps,
as he sits
To pestle a poison'd poison behind his crimson lights.

50

XII

When a Mammonite mother kills her babe for a burial
fee,
And Timour-Mammon grins on a pile of children's bones,
Is it peace or war? better, war! loud war by land and by sea,
War with a thousand battles, and shaking a hundred thrones.

55

60

XIII

For I trust if an enemy's fleet came yonder round by the hill,
And the rushing battle-bolt sang from the three-decker
out of the foam,
That the smooth-faced snubnosed rogue would leap from his counter and till,
And strike, if he could, were it but with his cheating
yardwand, home.——

65

29

XIV

What! am I raging alone as my father raged in his mood?
Must I too creep to the hollow and dash myself down
and die
Rather than hold by the law that I made, nevermore to brood
On a horror of shatter'd limbs and a wretched swindler's lie?

11 Christina Rossetti: 'Selected Poems'

Discuss how Rossetti explores the comforts of religion in this poem.

In your answer explore the author's use of language, imagery and verse form, and consider ways in which you find the poem characteristic of Rossetti's work in your selection. [30]

UP-HILL

Does the road wind up-hill all the way?

Yes, to the very end.

Will the day's journey take the whole long day?

From morn to night, my friend.

But is there for the night a resting-place? 5

A roof for when the slow dark hours begin.

May not the darkness hide it from my face?

You cannot miss that inn.

Shall I meet other wayfarers at night?

Those who have gone before. 10

Then must I knock, or call when just in sight?

They will not keep you standing at that door.

Shall I find comfort, travel-sore and weak?

Of labour you shall find the sum.

Will there be beds for me and all who seek? 15

Yea, beds for all who come.
