Section B

Answer all questions.

For a number of years, you have enjoyed making items of jewellery (including rings and bracelets) which you often give to family and friends as gifts for birthdays, anniversaries and other celebrations. Your family and friends always comment that they appreciate the thought that you put into creating the jewellery which is very different to anything sold in the local shops.

After leaving school you have decided to combine your enterprise skills and creative talents to make and sell your jewellery within your area via a local 'buy & sell' site on social media.

You will carry out all of the functional activities involved in running a business on your own.

17 From the list below, link each functional activity to its correct functional area with a line.

Finance

Ensure the workplace is safe

Marketing

Decide a way to attract and retain customers

Operations

Monitor cash flow

Human Resources

Ensure there are enough stocks of materials
