Introduction

The Level 2 and 3 Awards in Awareness of Dementia assess candidates' knowledge and understanding of practices in the care of individuals with dementia. It deals with issues such as person-centred approaches, factors that can influence communication, the impact that diversity, equality and inclusion can have on the individual's experience of dementia and the administration of medication. The knowledge gained through the achievement of these qualifications can be used towards the achievement of the Certificates in Dementia Care as well as to the Diploma in Health and Social Care.

The Level 2 and 3 Certificates in Dementia Care assess knowledge, understanding and skills demonstrated in the workplace in areas of practice such as person centred working, communication and interaction, equality and diversity, individuals' rights and choices.

Target audience

The Level 2 and 3 Awards are aimed at those already working in a care environment or preparing to work in a care environment, but who wish to gain knowledge and understanding of caring for individuals with dementia. The qualifications can be used as professional development to gain understanding of this specialist area of practice.

The Level 2 and 3 Certificates are aimed at those who are already working in care roles with individuals with dementia and provide an opportunity to have their knowledge and skills recognised through the achievement of nationally accredited qualifications.

Progression opportunities

Candidates have the opportunity to progress within the suite of qualifications.

For example, a candidate achieving a Level 2 Award in Awareness of Dementia may:

- get recognition for competence in caring for individuals with dementia by progressing to the Level 2 Certificate in Dementia Care.
- get recognition for higher level achievement by progressing to the OCR Level 3 Award in Awareness of Dementia.

Candidates also have the opportunity to map the achievement of units from these qualifications to OCR's Diplomas in Health and Social Care.

Form of assessment

The Level 2 and 3 Awards in Awareness of Dementia

Candidates will be required to put together a portfolio of evidence that meet the learning outcomes and assessment criteria of each unit. The evidence can come from naturally occurring work-based activities or centre can devise tasks or projects which can generate appropriate evidence. The evidence will be assessed in the centre and externally moderated by an OCR Examiner-moderator.

The Level 2 and 3 Certificates in Dementia Care

These qualifications provide an opportunity for candidates to demonstrate knowledge and skills related to this specialised area of practice.

The assessment of the units in these qualifications will follow the NVQ model of assessment and verification. It is anticipated that the evidence required to meet the assessment criteria will be naturally occurring as part of the candidate's day to day work activities.

Certification

There will be opportunities for candidates to claim both full award and unit certification.

The full award certificate will show the qualification title and QCDA accreditation information.

The unit certificate will also show the credit value of the unit achieved.
