The information provided in this handbook is correct at the time of production. Occasionally we may update this information so please check the qualification webpages for the most up-to-date information.

This handbook contains what you need to know about the planning, delivery and assessment of these qualifications. Staff involved in the delivery of these qualifications must have access to and understand the requirements in this handbook.

To access information on how to administer these qualifications please follow the link to the Administration area <http://www.ocr.org.uk/administration/>.

You should ensure candidates are informed of the title and level of the qualification they have been entered for and that Oxford Cambridge and RSA Examinations (OCR) is the awarding body for their chosen qualification.

1.1 The OCR Customer Service suite of qualifications

The OCR Customer Service suite of qualifications provides candidates with high quality, nationally recognised qualifications. They are vocationally-related, credit-based qualifications that provide valuable opportunities for individuals to develop skills, gain underpinning knowledge and understanding and demonstrate competence in the workplace or provide progression into the Customer Service sector. They support achievement of Functional Skills and relate to National Occupational Standards (NOS).

The awarding body for these qualifications is Oxford Cambridge and RSA Examinations (OCR) and the regulatory body is the Office of Qualifications and Examinations Regulation (Ofqual).

These qualifications have been accredited onto the Regulated Qualifications Framework. They are endorsed by Skills CfA, the sector body for Customer Service.

1.2 Administration arrangements for these qualifications

2.2 Target market

These qualifications are suitable for those who wish to undertake Customer Service activities at Levels 1, 2 or 3.

2.3 Qualification aims

The aim of these qualifications is to recognise the skills and competences of candidates in the workplace.

The OCR Level 1 NVQ Certificate in Customer Service provides an opportunity to gain the basic skills and knowledge needed for a career in customer service or any job which involves dealing with customers, encompassing a broad range of competencies from the customer service sector. This NVQ has been designed so that some evidence can be gained from the workplace and some from simulation.

The OCR Level 2 NVQ Certificate in Customer Service is primarily aimed at candidates who undertake a customer service role and recognises that employment in the customer service sector involves a diverse range of functions, tasks and activities that are constantly developing and changing.

It is suitable for candidates:

- who have particular customer service and administrative job roles
- who are working in a customer service environment
- whose role is to provide service to customers.

The OCR Level 3 NVQ Diploma in Customer Service is aimed at candidates who will be delivering and managing service and will be accountable in the area of practice. Candidates will be working without direct supervisions or on their own, such as in a commercial customer service environment.

It is suitable for candidates who:

- can influence what happens at work
- use the organisation's rules and systems flexibly to deliver good service
- question the way things are done and suggest improvements
- have good communication skills and a wide knowledge of what to do, who to see and where to go to get things done for the customer
- are aware of the commercial or other pressures facing the organisation/business.

2.4 Entry requirements

These qualifications are available to anyone who is capable of reaching the required standards. They have been developed free from any barriers that restrict access or progression thereby promoting equal opportunities.

All centre staff involved in the assessment or delivery of these qualifications should understand the requirements of the qualification and match them to the needs and capabilities of individual candidates before entering them as candidates for one of these qualifications.

There are no formal requirements for entry to these qualifications.

2.5 Unique Learner Number (ULN) and the Personal Learning Record (PLR)

This is a personal ten-digit number, which is used to ensure learner achievement information can be provided to their Personal Learning Record (PLR). ULNs are provided and administered by the Learning Records Service (LRS).

Learners over the age of 14 in UK education or training can access the PLR using their ULN. Learners keep the same ULN to access their PLR throughout their lives and whatever their level of learning.

Candidates that claim certification for publically funded qualifications must have a valid ULN.

Where a candidate has a ULN, you must enter their ten digit number in the ULN field when making entries via Interchange. For candidates who do not have a ULN, a claim will still be accepted if you leave this field blank, but OCR will not be able to send these achievements to the PLR.

Further information about this can be found in the Administration area and at the Learner Records Service.

2.6 Progression opportunities

These qualifications have been designed to encourage progression to further learning in a related discipline and candidates may also progress to employment in a wide range of customer service roles as this qualification provides evidence of achievement of a range of practical skills, understanding and knowledge in Customer Service.

2.7 Supporting OCR candidates

Centres should ensure that candidates are informed of the title and level of the qualification they have been entered for and that Oxford Cambridge and RSA Examinations (OCR) is the awarding body for their chosen qualification.

Centre staff should provide guidance to candidates on the assessment process and help candidates prepare for assessment. Full details on how the units are assessed are in sections 3 and 6 of this centre handbook.

2.8 Wider issues

These qualifications provide potential for centres to develop candidates' understanding of spiritual, moral, ethical, social and cultural issues and heighten candidates' awareness of environmental issues, health and safety considerations and European developments.

Spiritual, moral, ethical, social and cultural issues

Centre staff delivering a course that supports these qualifications would have opportunities to address ethical, social, cultural and moral issues in some of the units, for example:

- candidates will need to understand issues such as individual responsibility, group/team responsibility, business' and social responsibilities
- explore the individual's responsibility towards the customer, courtesy and protocols when dealing with colleagues and customers
- confidentiality of information (employer and customers).

Environmental issues, health and safety considerations and European developments

Centre staff delivering a course that supports these qualifications may have opportunities to address environmental issues, health and safety considerations and European developments depending on the method of delivery/choice of teaching materials.

For example, health and safety issues and their application are an integral part of Unit B12. In this unit candidates will need to understand the legislative requirements and how to maintain and develop a healthy safe and safe customer service environment.

2.9 Guided learning hours (glh)

Each of the units in these qualifications are allocated a number of guided learning hours (glh) which indicates the approximate number of hours for teacher supervised or directed study time and assessment. Information on unit glh for this qualification is given in section 6.

2.10 Funding

Funding arrangements can be subject to change. For the latest details about approval and funding eligibility, we recommend you visit the following websites:

Register of Regulated Qualifications – Ofqual's register of regulated qualifications

Department for Education (DfE) Section 96 – for confirmation of the approval of qualifications to be delivered to specific age ranges

Education and Skills Funding Agency for funding education and training for children, young people and adults in England

Department for the Economy for public funding in Northern Ireland

Qualifications in Wales database (QiW) for public funding in Wales

Use the Ofqual Qualification Number (QN) when you're looking for information on qualification eligibility for public funding.

If you have any queries about funding for this qualification email us at funding@ocr.org.uk.

2.11 Mode of delivery

OCR does not specify the mode of study or specify a time limit for the achievement of these qualifications other than the expiry dates for entry and certification laid down by the regulatory authorities detailed in the qualification profiles.

Centres are free to deliver these qualifications using any mode of delivery that meets the needs of their candidates. Whatever mode of delivery is used, centres must ensure that candidates have appropriate access to the resources identified below.

Centres should consider the candidates' complete learning experience when designing learning programmes. This is particularly important in relation to candidates studying part time alongside real work commitments where candidates may bring with them a wealth of experience that should be utilised to maximum effect by centre staff.

2.12 Resources

OCR strongly advises that teaching and development of subject content and associated skills be referenced to real vocational situations, through the utilisation of appropriate work-based contact, vocationally experienced delivery personnel, and real life case studies.

Candidates should be encouraged to read around the subject and have an appropriate knowledge of the application of the appropriate legislation (e.g. Health and Safety).

In addition, each unit will contain guidance on the resources required. Staff conducting assessment must understand fully the requirements of this/these qualification(s). Centres should ensure that appropriate physical resources are made available to candidates.

Centres will need to provide appropriate assessment facilities for candidates that comply with the regulations laid down in the OCR Administration area, <http://www.ocr.org.uk/administration/> and the JCQ Instructions for Conducting Examinations, available on the OCR website www.ocr.org.uk.

Centres will need to meet the above requirements when they seek centre approval from OCR.

2.13 Delivery in Wales and Northern Ireland

The specification for these qualifications has been approved by the Department for Children, Education, Lifelong Learning and Skills (DCELLS) for use by centres in Wales and by the Council for the Curriculum Examinations and Assessment (CCEA) for use by centres in Northern Ireland.

Candidates in Wales or Northern Ireland should not be disadvantaged by terms, legislation or aspects of government that are different from those in England. Where such situations might occur, including in the external assessment, the terms used have been selected as neutral so that candidates may apply whatever is appropriate to their own situation.

We will provide handbooks and supporting documentation in English. Only answers provided in English will be assessed.

2.14 Access arrangements and special consideration

Adjustments to standard assessment arrangements are made on the basis of the individual needs of candidates.

It is important, therefore, that centres identify as early as possible whether candidates have disabilities or particular difficulties that will put them at a disadvantage in the assessment situation and select an appropriate qualification or adjustment that will allow them to demonstrate attainment.

The responsibility for providing adjustments to assessment is one which is shared between OCR and the centre. Centre staff should consult the Joint Council for Qualifications' (JCQ) booklet Access Arrangements, Reasonable Adjustments and Special Consideration www.jcq.org.uk.

This document should also be referred to for those candidates who may require a post examination adjustment, special consideration (to reflect temporary illness, indisposition or injury), at the time of the examination/assessment.

For further guidance on access arrangements and special consideration please follow the link to OCR's Administration area, <http://www.ocr.org.uk/administration/>.

2.15 Results enquiries and appeals

For more information on results enquiries and appeals please follow the link to OCR's Administration area, <http://www.ocr.org.uk/administration/>.

2.16 Centre malpractice guidance

It is the responsibility of the Head of Centre¹ to report all cases of suspected malpractice involving centre staff or candidates. A JCQ Report of Suspected Malpractice form (JCQ/M1 for candidate suspected malpractice or JCQ/M2a for staff suspected malpractice) is available to download from the JCQ website and should be completed as soon as possible and emailed to malpractice@ocr.org.uk.

When asked to do so by OCR, Heads of Centres are required to investigate instances of malpractice promptly and report the outcomes to OCR.

Further information regarding reporting and investigating suspected malpractice and the possible sanctions and penalties which could be imposed, is contained in the JCQ publication: General and Vocational Qualifications – Suspected Malpractice in Examinations and Assessments; this is available from the JCQ website. Centres may also like to refer to the OCR Website for more details.

¹ This is the most senior officer in the organisation, directly responsible for the delivery of OCR qualifications, e.g. the Head Teacher or Principal of a school/college. The Head of Centre accepts full responsibility for the correct administration and conduct of OCR exams

3 Assessment

3.1 Assessment: How it works

In order for candidates to be able to effectively progress towards meeting the requirements of each assessment criterion, teachers/tutors must make sure that the supporting knowledge, understanding and skills requirements for each learning outcome and assessment criteria are fully addressed. The identified knowledge, understanding and skills in the unit are not exhaustive and may be expanded upon or tailored to particular contexts to which the unit is being taught and the assessment criteria applied.

We recommend that teaching and development of subject content and associated skills be referenced to real life situations, through the utilisation of appropriate work-based contact, vocationally experienced delivery personnel, and real life case situations.

Centre assessors, who are responsible for assessing candidates' evidence for internally assessed units, must make sure that candidates know they must comply with the Data Protection Act when they are producing work for assessment. Candidates must not reference another individual's personal details in any evidence produced for assessment. It is the candidate's responsibility to make sure evidence that includes another individual's personal details is anonymised

When assessors are satisfied that the candidate has met all of the requirements for a unit, they must confirm this by signing an evidence record sheet for that unit to show that the assessment process is complete.

Centre assessed and OCR verified

3.2 Initial assessment of candidates

It is important for centres to carry out some form of initial assessment that identifies what competence and knowledge a candidate already has and the gaps that they need to look at. This will help plan the assessment because it allows assessors to help candidates understand the best place to start collecting evidence. It will also identify units which candidates might have difficulty finishing. Please note that evidence generated from the optional units can often be cross-referenced to the mandatory units.

It is recommended that, in the majority of cases, it would be beneficial for candidates to start with an optional unit which reflects the work they carry out within their job role.

3.3 Assessment planning

Assessors must take responsibility for assessment planning with candidates. This will involve agreeing a number of issues with candidates including:

- finding the best source of evidence to use for particular units
- finding the best way of assessing the candidate
- confirming the best times, dates and places for the assessments to take place

- agreeing and listing candidate action to be undertaken before the next assessment visit.

Assessors must provide regular opportunities for reviewing assessment plans with candidates and give constructive feedback on each occasion. Assessment plans should provide guidance to the candidate about what evidence they should collect and why.

3.4 Making assessment decisions

It is not necessary for candidates to meet all the criteria every time they carry out an activity but it is necessary that all candidates produce their own evidence to meet all assessment criteria. They must consistently provide enough evidence for assessors to believe that the candidate is competent in their working environment.

In line with the Learning and Development standard A1, assessors should:

- plan with the candidates
- assess candidate performance, knowledge and understanding
- look at the evidence
- question and give feedback to the candidate working towards these qualifications.

They should also be satisfied that the candidate has demonstrated competence when meeting the assessment criteria.

All criteria must be completed before the assessor can sign the unit off as complete.

Full details of the administration arrangements associated with these qualifications please follow the link to OCR's Administration area, www.ocr.org.uk/administration/.

Methods of assessment

It is the assessor's responsibility to agree the best method of assessing a candidate in relation to their individual circumstances. The methods agreed must be:

- valid
- reliable
- safe and manageable
- suitable to the needs of the candidate.

Valid

A valid assessment method is one that is capable of measuring the knowledge or skills in question. For example, a written test cannot measure a candidate's practical skills or their ability to work well with others.

Validity can also be compromised if a candidate does not understand what is required of them. For example, one valid method of assessing a candidate's knowledge and understanding is to question them. If the questions posed are difficult for the candidate to understand (not in terms of the content but the way they are phrased, for example), the validity of the assessment method is questionable.

As well as assessment methods being valid, the evidence presented must also be valid. For example, it would not be appropriate to present an organisation's policy on "data protection" as evidence towards the requirement of the unit, "the main things you must do and not do in your job under laws covering data protection”, unless developed by the candidate, as it would not allow for valid assessment. It may be more appropriate for the candidate and assessor to have a discussion about the policy and for the candidate to explain how it is relevant, illustrated with examples from their work of their compliance to the requirements. This discussion could then be assessed by the assessor and recorded as evidence.

Reliable

A reliable method of assessment will produce consistent results for different assessors on each assessment occasion. Internal verifiers must make sure that all assessors’ decisions are consistent.

Safe and manageable

Assessors and internal verifiers must make sure that the assessment methods are safe and manageable and do not put unnecessary demands on the candidate and/or the organisation they work for.

Suitable to the needs of the candidate

OCR has tried to make sure that the achievement of these qualifications is free from constraints outside the requirements of the candidate’s job role.

For candidates who have access requirements please see section 2.14 Centre Malpractice of this handbook.

If centre staff think that any aspect of these qualifications unfairly restricts access and progression, they should talk to their OCR external verifier about this.

OCR in partnership with the sector body and other awarding bodies have identified the following main assessment methods which are suitable for these qualifications:

- direct observation of practice by a qualified assessor for occupational specific units
- examining the evidence by an assessor
- questioning the candidate or witness by an assessor
- inference of knowledge from direct observation

In some situations, the assessor can speak to the candidate to provide evidence of the candidate’s performance and knowledge (see Professional discussion).

3.5 Examining the evidence

Only approved and qualified assessors (see Assessor and internal verifier requirements) may examine the evidence for the assessment of these qualifications.

Evidence can:

- reflect how the candidate carried out the process
- be the product of a candidate’s work
- be a product relating to the candidate’s competence.

For example:

The process that the candidate carries out could be recorded in an observation or witness testimony. It is the assessor's responsibility to make sure that the evidence a candidate submits for assessment meets the requirements of the qualification.

The product of a candidate's work could be, for example, email messages to or from colleagues, project reports etc.

After the assessor has examined the evidence, the assessor must record an assessment decision and the justification for the decision. The assessor should also give feedback to the candidate.

3.6 Observation

Only approved and qualified assessors (see Assessor and internal verifier requirements) may carry out observations for the assessment of these qualifications.

The assessor and candidate should plan observations together but it is the assessor's responsibility to record the observation properly.

After the observation has taken place, the assessor needs to record an assessment decision and the justification for the decision. The assessor should also give feedback to the candidate.

3.7 Questioning

Only approved and qualified personnel (see Assessor and internal verifier requirements) may question a candidate or witness for the assessment of these qualifications.

Questioning the candidate is normally an ongoing part of the assessment process, and is necessary to:

- test a candidate's knowledge of facts and procedures
- check if a candidate understands principles and theories and
- collect information on the type and purpose of the processes a candidate has gone through.

Assessors should ask open questions; that is questions where the candidate has to give an answer (other than 'yes' or 'no'). Assessors should also be careful to avoid complicated questions which may confuse the candidate.

It is important that assessors record assessment decisions after they have questioned the candidate. They must record enough information to justify the decisions they make. This does not mean that assessors must record, word for word, the questions put to the candidate and the answers the candidate gives. However, assessors must record enough information about what they asked and how the candidate replied to allow the assessment to be verified.

Questioning witnesses is normally an ongoing part of validating written witness statements. However, questioning witnesses should not just be used for this purpose. Assessors should be able to speak to witnesses and record, in whatever way is suitable, the verbal statements of these witnesses. A record of verbal statement is a form of witness statement and could provide valuable evidence to confirm a candidate's competence over a period of time.

3.8 Professional discussion

Professional discussion is a structured, planned and in depth discussion recorded by the assessor. It allows the candidate to present evidence of competence and to demonstrate skills, knowledge and understanding through discussing the evidence and showing how it meets the requirements of the qualification. The assessor should guide the discussion by using open questioning, active listening and knowledge of the standards.

3.9 Witness testimonies

Witness testimonies can be used as evidence of a candidate's performance. Such testimonies could be made verbally to the assessor or could be written in a short note.

If a witness provides a written statement they should include the following:

- the candidate's name
- the date, time and venue of the activity carried out
- a description of the activities performed by the candidate
- the date of writing the testimony
- a description of the witness' relationship to the candidate
- their signature and job title
- their contact details (such as telephone number).

It is not appropriate for witness testimonies to contain a list of the skills to which it relates. Witnesses must direct the information in their testimonies to describing what the candidate did. The assessor will then judge whether the candidate's activities demonstrate competence to the standards. It is not acceptable for candidates to produce written witness testimonies for witnesses to sign, to support a qualification they are working towards.

3.10 Personal statements

This is a candidate's own account of what they did, backed up by reference to evidence or witnesses. Candidates can also produce reflective accounts, but someone who can authenticate them as a true account of what took place must countersign these or alternatively the assessor could question or discuss the evidence with the candidate.

Case studies can be used to generate evidence and can often be cross-referenced and/or used as the basis for discussion to extend evidence on the skills required to for example, handle a situation, or take a different approach to a situation for a different type of customer. The case study could include for example:

- date, time and place
- type of customer/s
- the customer's query/request/problem
- action by the candidate
- outcomes e.g. result/customer comment etc.

3.11 Product evidence

Documents included as product evidence e.g. emails, letters, logs/diaries of how customers have been dealt with/work carried out, forms etc. must have been produced by the candidate or used by them in their job. The evidence must be annotated by the candidate or through assessor questioning to demonstrate their relevance to the candidate and the candidate's job role.

3.12 Where evidence comes from

Evidence may come from a number of different sources, for example:

- from a candidate carrying out workplace activities. Candidates must not reference another individual's personal details in any evidence produced for summative assessment. It is the candidate's responsibility to make sure evidence that includes another individual's personal details is anonymised to comply with the Data Protection Act.
- knowledge evidence may come from a candidate carrying out workplace activities or from the candidate answering the assessor's questions.

3.13 Real work

The qualification(s) require(s) that all assessment of a candidate's performance must take place within the workplace, and that observation should be of naturally occurring practice within the candidate's work role. This will include the demonstration of the application of knowledge. This principle will apply to all units, except where simulation has been deemed acceptable. This principle will apply to all units, except for Units C1 and C2.

3.14 Simulation

Wherever possible, assessment of the Customer Service National NVQ Units should be carried out in a real job (either paid or voluntary). Where this is not possible, this Assessment Strategy does allow for the use of simulation for the following Level 1 NVQ units only:

C1 Recognise and deal with customer queries, requests and problems

C2 Take details of customer service problems.

However, where access to assessment is jeopardised by this, guidance should be sought from OCR who will decide the issue in conjunction with the Sector Skills Council

To undertake assessment of simulated activities for these units, the Guidelines for Simulation shown below must be met:

Simulation can only be applied to the Level 1 S/NVQ Units listed below

- ✓ C1 Recognise and deal with customer queries, requests and problems
- ✓ C2 Take details of customer service problems

Simulation is defined by Skills CfA as any activities where dealing with customers and work activities are carried out through using individuals acting the part of the customer or scenarios which are not 'real' customer transactions.

To undertake the assessment of simulated activities for these two units the following guidelines must be met:

- when role playing, candidates and anybody taking part as a customer must have a brief that gives sufficient information for them to recognise the equivalent real situation and decide what they would do and say
- the simulated situation should represent normal and routine experience wherever possible and not exceptional or unusually difficult circumstances that might be faced
- the person taking part in the simulation as a customer must be credible for the situation that is being simulated
- any resources or equipment that would normally be in real work should be available and in working order for the simulation
- candidates should complete the required tasks to the National Occupational Standards and in the timescales that would normally be expected in real work
- candidates should complete the required tasks taking account of legislation and regulation that would apply in real work
- candidates must carry out the simulated activity in a professional manner taking into account establishment requirements such as appearance and dress code, personal conduct, hygiene, reliability and punctuality
- whilst the primary purpose of the Simulation is for Assessment, feedback must be given in a way that builds confidence.

Simulations should only be undertaken in the minority of cases, where the candidate is unable to complete the units because of the lack of opportunity within their practice:

- where performance is critical but events occur infrequently and yet a high degree of confidence is needed that the candidate would act appropriately
- where performance is critical, happens frequently but where there is risk of harm to the candidate in a real situation
- simulation may be used as a supplementary form of evidence.

Where simulations are used they must replicate working activities in a realistic workplace environment.

The use of simulation will be indicated in each unit. A realistic working environment is defined by an environment that replicates what is likely to happen when an individual is carrying out their normal duties and activities.

3.15 Medium that can be used

Evidence can take many forms, for example, photographs, videos, audio tapes, CD-ROMs and paper-based or digitally formatted documents.

3.16 Amount of evidence needed

The amount of evidence per unit cannot be stipulated, as it depends on the type of evidence used and the strength/weight of each item. It is for the assessor, in discussion with the candidate, to judge when all learning outcomes, assessment criteria and evidence requirements have been met for unit sign-off.

The quality and breadth of evidence provided should determine whether an assessor is confident that a candidate is competent or not. Assessors must be convinced that candidates working on their own can work independently to the required standard.

OCR may accept some evidence from candidates who have been assessed in a language other than English, Welsh or Irish as long as there is enough evidence to show that candidates are competent in English, Welsh or Irish to the standard required for competent performance throughout the UK.

3.17 Cumulative assessment record (CAR)

To build a Cumulative Assessment Record (CAR), candidates will need to fill in an evidence record sheet (or equivalent) for each unit. Compiling the CAR is an ongoing process involving discussion and agreement between the candidate and their assessor. The candidate should fill in and keep the CAR while working towards their qualification. An assessor may help the candidate complete the CAR if necessary.

As well as collecting evidence, candidates must record all their assessed evidence in their personal cumulative assessment record (CAR). The CAR is the candidate's record of what evidence has been accepted as proof of competence and where that evidence can be found. It can also be used to record progress towards, and achievement of units.

Centres can design their own recording documents if they want to. You should talk about any document you want to use with your external verifier before you use them. OCR's Administration area, <http://www.ocr.org.uk/administration/> includes information and criteria for designing recording documents.

We have provided other forms and recording documents which assessors and candidates might want to use for this/these qualification(s) please see the OCR website www.ocr.org.uk.

3.18 Verification – how it works

Internal verification

It is the centre's responsibility to appoint an internal verifier to manage the internal verification process. The purpose of internal verification is to make sure and show that assessment is valid and consistent, through monitoring and sampling assessment decisions.

Internal verifiers must agree the use of simulated activities before they take place and must sample all evidence produced through simulated activities (see section Simulation).

The role of the internal verifier is more fully explained in the OCR Administration area, <http://www.ocr.org.uk/administration/>.

External verification

OCR will allocate an external verifier who will visit the centre to verify assessments and internal verification.

External verifiers will want to interview candidates, assessors and internal verifiers during their visits. Assessment records and evidence for all candidates must also be available for verifiers to see if they ask to. It is the assessor's (and not the internal or external verifiers') responsibility to 'sign off' each unit of competence.

Centres should have the following available for each external verification visit:

- a list of candidates registered for these qualifications, together with their achievements to date plus certification records
- access to evidence (for example, up-to-date portfolios) and CARs
- access to OCR on-line claim system (Interchange)
- relevant assessors and selected candidates as requested by the external verifier (EV), including those whose certificates have been claimed through Direct Claims Status (DCS)
- all portfolios (access to evidence) relating to certificates claimed through DCS
- a copy of the external verifier's last visit report
- a sample signature list for all assessors and internal verifiers
- details of training and curriculum vitae for new members of the assessment team
- all centre records (see Centre records – assessment and verification for more details)
- evidence of achieving action points since the last external verifier visit
- notes of any action carried out due to particular points mentioned by an external verifier in any correspondence since their last visit
- recommendations to the external verifier
- if recorded evidence is used, ensure all recordings and appropriate playback equipment is available.

Centre records – assessment and verification

A centre must make sure that assessment and verification records are available for external verification purposes. Assessment and/or internal verification records must record the following minimum information:

- candidate's name and location
- the title and level of the qualification they are taking
- candidate's start date on the programme and confirmation of registration with OCR
- name of the assessor
- name of the internal verifier
- date and outcome of the initial assessment of the candidate
- dates and details of candidate reviews and feedback sessions
- dates of all assessments and their outcomes (that is, the decision whether the candidate has met the requirements or not) cross-referenced to the unit

- enough detail of the assessment to justify the decision made
- an indication of the use of simulation, if used
- dates and outcomes of internal verification
- action resulting from internal verification
- certification.

Records should show formative assessment decisions (ongoing decision making), summative assessment decisions and feedback to the candidate.

4 Assessor and Internal Verifier Requirements

4.1 Assessment Centre Requirements

The Assessment Centre must:

- ensure that there are a sufficient number of people either trained or qualified to assess the number of candidates they anticipate to register
- ensure that there are a sufficient number of people either trained or qualified to internally verify for the number of candidates and assessors
- put verification systems and internal verifiers in place to ensure that all assessments are valid, reliable, authentic and sufficient and provide quality assured training for those people identified as being responsible for verification
- ensure that there is a system of standardisation in place to ensure that all assessments are consistent and fair
- ensure that those undertaking the roles of verification and assessment maintain their skills, knowledge and understanding regarding assessment and verification and the associated qualification.

The occupational expertise of those undertaking the roles of assessment and internal verification is one of the key factors underpinning valid, fair and reliable assessment. The integrity of assessments and verifications is of paramount importance. Centres must ensure that there is sufficient time to conduct effective assessment and internal verification.

4.2 Assessor and Internal Verifier Requirements

Assessment is an activity that can be performed by a dedicated individual or as part of an individual's wider role e.g. Supervisor, manager, tutor. All assessors must have:

- a thorough knowledge of the Level 1, 2 or 3 National Occupational Standards for Customer Service appropriate to the Level the EV is working at, and the ability to interpret them across a wide variety of Customer Service environments
- experience and working knowledge of the operational and assessment processes of the Customer Service S/NVQ at the Level the EV is working at
- relevant and credible customer service experience across the level and breadth of the National Occupational Standards and S/NVQs at the Level the EV is working at
- knowledge of current customer service practice and emerging issues in the customer service arena
- high levels of communication and interpersonal skills.

The tables below show the requirements for the Occupational Competence of Assessors, Internal and External Verifiers for Level 1, 2 and 3. The table suggest ways in which evidence can be gained, however these are not compulsory and are a guide only. The tick boxes on the right show whether the evidence applies to Assessors (A), Internal Verifiers (IV) or External Verifier (EV).

5 Certification

Candidates who achieve the full qualification will receive:

- a certificate listing the unit achieved with their related credit value, and
- a certificate giving the full qualification title

OCR Level 1 NVQ Certificate in Customer Service

OCR Level 2 NVQ Certificate in Customer Service

OCR Level 3 NVQ Diploma in Customer Service

Candidates achieving one or more units but who do not meet the credit requirements for a full certificate will receive a certificate listing the units they have achieved along with their credit value.

5.1 Claiming certificates

Certificates will be issued directly to the centre for successful candidates. In order to ensure that these are automatically issued centres must ensure that the OCR candidate number is always used where a candidate has already achieved one or more units. See OCR's Administration area for full details, <http://www.ocr.org.uk/administration/>.

5.2 Replacement certificates

If a replacement certificate is required a request must be made to the OCR Operations Division on 024 76 470033, or in writing to the Coventry office, and an application form with further instructions will be sent. A charge will be made for a replacement certificate.

6 Qualification structure and units

6.1 Qualification structure

Candidates do not have to achieve units in any particular order and teachers/tutors should tailor learning programmes to meet individual candidate needs. It is recommended that, wherever possible, centres adopt a holistic approach to the delivery of these qualifications and identify opportunities to link the units and levels.

If a candidate is not able to complete the full qualification, their achievements will be recognised through the issue of a unit certificate listing the units achieved.

OCR Level 1 NVQ Certificate in Customer Service

Qualification Accreditation Number 500/9843/3

To achieve this qualification, candidates must achieve a total of 22 credits made up as follows:

- from mandatory Group A, candidates must achieve 8 credits
- from the optional groups, candidates must achieve 14 credits by completing a minimum of one unit from each optional group, a minimum of which 8 credits should be achieved at Level 1.

The following table contains the groups of mandatory and optional units.

6.2 Unit format

The format of OCR's units is detailed below.

A unit title

This is a summary of the content of the unit.

Level

This advises the Regulated Qualifications Framework level on which the unit is regulated.

Credit value

This advises how many credits the candidate will achieve for successful achievement of the unit.

Guided learning hours (glh)

This specifies the amount of time that the average candidate would be expected to take to complete all requirements of the unit.

Unit expiry date

This section specifies the end accreditation date of the unit.

Unit purpose and aim

This section specifies the overall purpose and aim of the unit.

Learning outcomes

These set out what the candidate is expected to know, understand or be able to do as a result of the learning process.

Assessment criteria

These detail the requirements that the candidate will be assessed against in order to evidence the learning outcomes.

Knowledge, understanding and skills

This details the underpinning knowledge, understanding and skills which candidates will need in order to be able to undertake the assessment for the unit and to meet the requirements of the assessment criteria.

Assessment

This section details how the assessment criteria will be assessed.

Evidence requirements

These provide specific detail to amplify the knowledge or understanding required to meet the assessment criteria.

Guidance on assessment and evidence requirements

This provides guidance on how the assessment could be carried out and how the evidence requirements could be met.

National Occupational Standards (NOS) mapping/signposting

This section provides mapping/signposting to the relevant National Occupational Standards.

Resources

This section contains details of any specific resources that must be available to the candidate or suggested resource material that will support learning.

6.3 Units

Units can be downloaded from the OCR website <http://www.ocr.org.uk/qualifications/by-type/vocational-qualifications/customer-service/>

7 Recording Documentation

7.1 Recording assessment

OCR has provided a master evidence record sheet. When evidence is recorded on the evidence record sheet, assessors will be advised to identify the method that has been used to assess the evidence. OCR external verifiers will look for this information when verifying the NVQ.

7.2 Recording the method of assessment

The master evidence record sheet includes a box in which you must record the method of assessment. The following list shows the individual codes you should use when filling in these record sheets:

Method of assessment used	Code to be inserted on evidence reference sheet
Observation of the candidate by the assessor	O
Examination of the evidence by the assessor: Examination of a product Examination of the witness testimony Examination of a case history Examination of a personal statement Examination of written answers to questions	EP EWT ECH EPS EWQ
Questioning of the candidate or witness by the assessor: Questioning of the candidate Questioning of the witness	QC QW
Professional Discussion	PD
Simulated Activities	S

7.3 Recording documents

The following recording documents are included:

- Evidence record sheet
- Witness list
- Record of achievement

Evidence record sheet

This form (or a suitable alternative) is mandatory for candidates' Cumulative Assessment Record (CAR). It is the vehicle for linking evidence to the 'assessment criteria and evidence requirements'. The evidence for the unit should be listed (as it is collected) down the left-hand side. The assessment method should be indicated and then the relevant 'assessment criteria and evidence requirements' that the candidate is claiming should be selected from the appropriate column. The evidence record sheet, where possible, should be filled in by the candidate with the help of an assessor if necessary.

Witness List

This form is designed to capture all the necessary information about witnesses who have contributed to a candidate's evidence of competence. The use of this form is optional.

Record of achievement

This form is designed to record a candidate's progress through the qualification. It will show, at a glance, which units the assessor considers the candidate to have finished and met all the requirements for.

8 Guidance For Candidates

8.1 What are NVQs in Customer Service?

These qualifications aim to recognise candidates' achievements within customer service environments. For example:

1. provide accreditation for the interpersonal skills identified as critical for those intending to work in a customer service environment
2. prepare candidates for employment in a job that involves customer service
3. improve the essential knowledge, understanding and skills required for employment in a customer service role, whilst employed
4. update the knowledge skills and understanding of those already employed in a customer service role to improve their performance.

These qualifications are based on the Customer Service National Occupational Standards at Levels 1, 2 and 3 and are designed to certificate occupational competence at these levels. These qualifications incorporate a choice of optional units which will enable you to tailor the qualification/s to your needs.

8.2 What do I have to do to achieve these qualifications?

8.3 What if I cannot gain enough credits for a full qualification?

These qualifications are very flexible and allow you to achieve recognition for what you have already achieved even if you do not finish the full qualification. OCR has systems in place which allow you to be awarded a certificate listing the unit (or units) you have achieved even if you are unable to complete the full qualification.

8.4 How do I know that these qualifications are right for me?

These qualifications are designed for candidates wishing to gain an appropriate qualification for the purposes of working in the customer service sector.

These qualifications may also form a progression route to higher level courses such as Higher National Diploma (HND) or other appropriate higher education qualifications.

8.5 How are the units assessed?

Like all NVQs, this qualification is competence-based which means all of the units are assessed through a best mix of training, assessment and observation to fulfil the requirements of the NVQ. Your assessor will work with you to decide on the most appropriate way to collect evidence during the course of your normal work. There are no exams for these qualifications.

8.6 Do I need to pass all of the units?

The units that need to be passed in order to achieve a full NVQ in Customer Service are detailed in section 9.2. However, each unit represents a worthwhile achievement in its own right, and certification is also available at unit level.

8.7 How do I keep track of my achievements?

We have designed a Record of Achievement form for you to use to keep track of your achievements. This form is optional (you do not have to use it if you do not want to).

8.8 Can my work for these qualifications prepare me for my Functional Skills?

The work that you do for these qualifications may help to prepare you for the functional skills assessment.

OCR wishes you every success in your achievement of these qualifications.

9 Mapping and Signposting

9.1 National Occupational Standards (NOS) Mapping

These qualifications provide a key progression route between education and employment (or further study/training leading to employment). It is directly relevant to the needs of employers and relates to National Occupational Standards (NOS) in Customer Service.
